

Stalin Praises Cherbourg Win

LONDON (CP) — Premier Marshal Stalin, congratulated Prime Minister Churchill on the capture of Cherbourg in these words:
"Accept my warm congratulations on the liberation of the town of Cherbourg from the German invaders.
"I greet the heroic British and American troops on the occasion of this brilliant success."
Mr. Churchill replied:
"We are honored by your congratulations on the liberation of Cherbourg and for your greeting to the American and British troops on the occasion of this most pregnant victory."
The messages were made public tonight.

Yanks Capture 37,333 Germans

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE (AP) — U.S. troops have killed 5,000 to 6,000 Germans and captured 37,333 since the landings in France, a staff officer said today.
With the normal ratio of wounded to dead, it appeared obvious the Germans had suffered extremely heavy casualties in trying to stem the American drive from the beaches in the last 24 days.

Jeep Kills Child

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP) — Struck by a Canadian army jeep on the street not far from his home, 19-month-old Earl Burman, son of Gen. and Mrs. Henry Burman, was fatally injured today.

Danish Patriots Rise

STOCKHOLM (AP) — More than 1,000 Danes burned in the streets of Copenhagen tonight as Danish patriots continued anti-Nazi demonstrations, in which 11 persons have been killed and 24 wounded, the free Danish press service reported.
Danes ran through the streets, hurling pictures of Hitler into the fires, and singing God Save the King, the news service said, adding British flags were hoisted at many places.

Saipan Japs Resist

WASHINGTON (AP) — Japanese resistance has been halted on Saipan Point on the southwestern shore of Saipan, but farther north on that island of the western Pacific Marianas group, strong opposition is being encountered by U.S. troops toward Garapan, principal city of Saipan.

2,349 Jobs Open

VANCOUVER (CP) — Shortage of women workers in Vancouver, keeping pace with that of male employees, has reached a point where there now are 2,349 vacancies, Miss E. S. Morley, women's supervisor of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, disclosed today.

Injured By Train

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP) — Mike Cocker, 60, Winnipeg, was in hospital this afternoon with severe injuries suffered when the caboose of a gang work train passed over him near Spaukom on the C.N.R. in the Ashcroft district. Cocker fell between two cars and wheels of the caboose passed over both feet and one hand.

Accuses High-Graders

OTTAWA (CP) — Hon. W. E. Rowe, P.C., Dufferin-Simcoe, Ont., said in debate on the budget in the Commons this afternoon that the Dominion revenue was losing more than $1,000,000 annually from the operations of "high-graders."
He had suggested steps to encourage mineral development and contended that revenue was being lost to the government because the "high-graders" traffic had not been stopped.

Just $10 Short of $1,000

From Mrs. Fred Cabeldu, wife of Lt. Col. Cabeldu, commanding officer of Victoria's Canadian Scottish, came a cheque for $50 today for the Scottish Comforts Fund, bringing the total to $990.
This subscription, along with all donations of Victorians to the fund, will go to purchase cigarettes and comforts for Canadian Scottish soldiers now at war on the Normandy peninsula—gifts unobtainable to the boys in France.

Soviet Drive Now Only 37 Miles From Minsk

MOSCOW (CP-Reuters) — Thirty-two thousand Germans were killed on the third White Russian front from June 23 to 27, a Soviet special announcement said tonight. The announcement added 26,000 prisoners, including 300 officers, were taken.
Meanwhile, Marshal Stalin announced powerful Russian armies lashing out both on the White Russian and Finnish fronts have captured Bobruisk, last "Fatherland Line" fortress before Minsk, and have cleared the north rail line to Minsk.

Soviet armies have driven to within 37 miles of Minsk, White Russian capital, pushing the Nazis back over the same road to Warsaw and Berlin which Napoleon followed in his disastrous retreat from Moscow.

Bobruisk, bypassed fortified rail junction some 90 miles south-east of Minsk, was taken by storm, Stalin's broadcast announcement said. Earlier reports said the Russians were closing in on five Nazi divisions trapped there.

Russia's far northern army struck into Petrozavodsk, capital of the Soviet Karelo-Finnish republic, and rolled on to take the rail junction of Kondopoga and completely clear the railroad to the supply port of Murmansk.

The fall of Borisov, less than 50 miles northeast of Minsk, appeared near, earlier dispatches said.
The hand-like Soviet offensive was formed by units fanning out to the northeast of Minsk like fingers, while strong groups southwest of the city formed the thumb.

With the freeing of Mogilev the Russians for the first time in nearly three years have a direct rail route between Leningrad and Odessa.

Council of War

AN ADVANCED ALLIED COMMAND POST (CP-Reuters) — Gen. Eisenhower, supreme Allied commander, held an important conference this week at which Prime Minister Churchill and leading commanders of the Allied invasion forces were present.

U.S. Casualties

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. casualties in the war, including the first two weeks of battle in Normandy, total 244,158. Of these 55,206 are dead—35,104 soldiers and 20,102 navy, marines and coast guard personnel.
Secretary of War Stimson reported today that through June 13 U.S. army casualties were 179,923, of which 32,022 were killed, 73,668 wounded, 37,766 missing and 36,467 prisoners.

20 Oil Plants Serving Nazis Wrecked By Raids

ROME (AP) — At least 20 of 22 oil refineries attacked by Italy-based Allied bombers had been put out of service by mid-June, and Nazi oil reserves "are being used up at a faster rate than ever before," headquarters of the Mediterranean Allied air force announced today.
The announcement said 4,800 planes have dropped about 11,000 tons of bombs on Nazi oil facilities, including rail yards serving refineries. The production at Ploesti, which has been the source of 35 per cent of German supplies, was said to have been cut to very low levels.

"More than half the German synthetic oil production has been knocked out by attacks of the U.S. 8th Air Force based in the United Kingdom," the announcement said. "So much damage has been done to oil plants, ranging from the Baltic to the Black Sea, that the enemy's stored reserves represent his main cushion against having his military machine brought to a grinding halt."

Coldwell Moves Budget Amendment

OTTAWA (CP) — M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, this afternoon criticized the 1944-45 budget for making concessions to big business while failing to provide tax relief for those with low incomes.
In a budget debate speech punctuated with warnings that the methods of monopoly capitalism would not meet the economic needs of the postwar period, he called for provision of at least $5,000,000,000 for social security and government-financed projects in the first two postwar years.

As specific suggestions in his speech, but not included in his amendment to the budget resolution, he said income tax exemptions should be raised to $1,000 for single persons and $1,500 for married persons.
In the alternative, if taxes were still necessary from low income people, he proposed that the compulsory savings feature be retained and that such taxes be refundable after the war.

He spoke after Hon. Earl Rowe, P.C., Dufferin-Simcoe, Ont., who moved an amendment calling for higher exemptions on low incomes and more effective mobilization of manpower.
Mr. Coldwell moved an amendment, which said in part:
"This House regrets that the government has seen fit to make substantial and undeserved concessions to the vested interests of the country while it has failed to provide the necessary relief for taxpayers in the lower income brackets."

Secretary of War Stimson reported today that through June 13 U.S. army casualties were 179,923, of which 32,022 were killed, 73,668 wounded, 37,766 missing and 36,467 prisoners.

Canadian Fliers Down 26 Nazis In Day's Fights

By PO. H. R. McDONALD, R.C.A.F.

A CANADIAN AIRFIELD IN FRANCE (CP) — Canadian fighter planes in one of the most brilliant achievements in the history of the R.C.A.F. shot down 26 out of a total of 34 enemy aircraft destroyed over the Normandy front between dawn and dusk Wednesday.

In addition, R.C.A.F. pilots chalked up a number of enemy planes probably shot down, and a number of others which were damaged.
Four pilots scored double kills, among them Wing Cmdr. J. E. (Johnny) Johnson, the English-born commander of a Canadian fighter wing operating from an R.C.A.F. base in Normandy.

Ft. Lt. R. K. Hayward of St. John's, Nfld., destroyed two FW190s and damaged a third, which gave him the highest R.C.A.F. individual score of the day. Earlier reports had indicated the Canadian airmen had downed 18 enemy planes in Wednesday's daylight operations.

SET NEW RECORDS

The complete figures were reached by intelligence officers today after a period of aerial operations which exceeded in intensity anything since the Allied Normandy beachhead was opened June 6.

Besides the toll of enemy planes, which included all fighter types, R.C.A.F. pilots also strafed transport on the roads.
Among the R.C.A.F. Spitfire pilots contributing to the total with one Nazi each were: Ft. Lts. G. R. Patterson, Kelowna, B.C.; McElroy, Kamloops, B.C.; R. M. Stainer, Saskatoon, and A. E. Halrow, Penticton, B.C.

Johnson's score of two brought his total of enemy planes downed to 32, equalling the mark set by Group Capt. A. G. (Sailor) Malan, a South African, who now is on ground duty.

1,100 Square Miles Of France Freed

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE (AP) — Allied armies have liberated approximately 1,100 square miles of France, counting today's British advances, or slightly more than a half of 1 per cent of the nation's 212,659 square mile area.

The Allies hold approximately 125 miles of French seacoast. The total French seacoast measures about 1,950 miles.

Liberal Budget Seen As Move To Eliminate Tories From Scene

By NORMAN M. MACLEOD, Victoria Daily Times Staff Correspondent.

OTTAWA—Reflection on the current Isley budget is breeding growing suspicion in the Progressive Conservative parliamentary group that the Mackenzie King government hasn't—so to put it mildly—its welfare at heart.

It isn't merely the fact that the Brackenites believe that the budget, if not specifically designed for purposes of an election, is at least calculated to meet any voting emergency that may arise. Their anxiety goes much deeper than misgivings that an appeal to the country may be just around the corner.

What has the Progressive Conservative M.P.'s really disturbed is the evidence they discern in the budget that federal Liberalism proposes to pursue seriously and unrelentingly the policy announced just after the Saskatchewan election of squeezing the Progressive Conservative movement out of the political picture, and having the C.C.F. as the alternative to the present government.

APPEAL TO BUSINESS

The noteworthy appeal which the present budget makes to big business is seen in federal circles as a long stride by the government along the road of such strategy. The promise of the repeal of the excess profits tax after the war, the granting of the double depreciation on postwar capital investment, the leeway given for offsetting years of losses against years of profits, the hope of some solution of the problem of the man of supposed wealth who literally cannot afford to die because of the combined inroads which succession duty and income tax liability would make upon his estate—all these concessions to big business are seen by Progressive Conservatives as a deliberate and large-scale attempt to slice away the traditional support which old-line Toryism always has enjoyed from business and financial interests.

As one follower of John Bracken expressed it: "The Isley budget has brought home to the Progressive Conservatives that they are in what is perhaps the last ditch of a bitter war for party survival."

Now that Cherbourg has fallen, it is to be expected that more progress will be made in the Caen sector.

No one at Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters expects the German divisions to be routed at this time. Marshal Rommel may withdraw his troops from Caen when he realizes the odds against him are too great, but he will withdraw them in an orderly manner. Our high command knows well that we will have to fight and pay a price in blood for each inch of ground we conquer in France so long as the German generals think that by fighting they can obtain better peace terms.

OUT TO MAKE US PAY

The Wehrmacht is not lacking war material. The situation in the Caen-St. Lo area proves this. Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery has attempted since June 7 to capture these two points, which are important for the capture of Le Havre, but so far he has not been able to budge Marshal Erwin Rommel's defensive forces.

The fighting spirit of the German troops—with rare exceptions—is as good as ever. The generals have not lost their heads and the rank and file fights according to orders from above. The troops will defend positions to the last man, if so ordered, or will surrender when headquarters decide that surrender is the best policy.

most important victory which the Canadian farmer has won in any budget of recent memory. That it will be an effective voice getting weapon on the rural hustings is not doubted by the Bracken group.

TAKE AWAY THEIR SUPPORT

In other words, what the Progressive Conservatives discern in the present budget is an attempt by the government to effect a farmer-rightist coalition which will split badly the support on which the Brackenites were counting in urban and rural constituencies alike. They believe the government is out definitely to eliminate them as a political factor from the next general election whenever it may come, in accordance with the recent declaration of Senator—Wishart Robertson, president of the National Liberal Federation, that the Saskatchewan election demonstrated that the issue was now drawn definitely and sharply between federal Liberalism and the C.C.F.

As one follower of John Bracken expressed it: "The Isley budget has brought home to the Progressive Conservatives that they are in what is perhaps the last ditch of a bitter war for party survival."

292 Nazi Tanks Knocked Out Since D-Day

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE (CP) — The Supreme Allied command announced today that 292 German tanks have been disabled or destroyed in Normandy since D-Day.

Incomplete reports showed at least 44 German aircraft shot down today over France and Germany.

The air forces announced that since D-Day enemy fighter bases supporting the battle area have been driven back 100 miles by Allied air attacks.

"Very heavy fighting" was reported at La-Byude, four miles north of the centre of the city of Caen. German-held city 120 miles from Paris around which British armor and infantry are attacking.

On the southern front across the Odon River, southwest of Caen, British troops captured vital high ground overlooking the Caen battle area around Esquay, 7½ airline miles from the German-held city.

Headquarters announced that four villages—Tessel-Bretteville, Menanville, Grainville and Mondeville—had been captured after fierce fighting.

Nazis Desperately Try To Halt Thrust

The Germans were reported in front dispatches today to have thrown the bulk of their 15th and 17th Armies into the defence of Caen, in an attempt to halt the British flanking thrust south of the inland port. The German high command asserted the Allied forces are attacking on a 17-mile front in Normandy.

The broadcast Nazi communiqué added that fighting was especially furious around Caen and that British and Canadian forces had achieved a penetration in wooded country.

(There has been no Allied confirmation that Canadians are taking part in the offensive in this region.)

General Montgomery's men smashed nine counterattacks in the past 24 hours and widened the breach in the enemy's lines.

Supreme Headquarters announced British infantry and armor—supported by artillery fire from British and Canadian guns were streaming across the Odon southwest of Caen in an ever-widening bridgehead.

Field dispatches said the Nazi command had sent practically the entire strength of the two armies into fierce armored clashes on three sides of the city.

Gen. Montgomery is forcing the battle against his old desert opponent Field Marshal Rommel, who is struggling to prevent British columns from strangling his communications about the Caen stronghold.

The long-dormant Luftwaffe sprang to life under a cloak of clouds to support Rommel's desperate bid to drive back the Allied attack, but 34 of the Nazi planes were downed.

U.S. units continued to mop up on the Cherbourg peninsula, and the only German resistance reported remaining in that region was at Cap de la Hague, where it was unofficially estimated about 3,000 Germans were still holding out in isolated pockets.

Indication the Germans might be moving strategic reserves from the Reich and possibly even Russia into France to meet the increasing threat of the Allied invasion armies was seen in the heavy R.A.F./R.C.A.F. night-bomber attack on Metz, important railway junction in eastern France.

Today's communiqué No. 47 told of a similar attack on the French rail centre of Blainville, also in eastern France.

Allied Measures Strangling Nazi Economy

Shortages of Needed Metals Helping Bring Germany's Collapse

By HERBERT J. SELIGMANN
WASHINGTON (Special)—As President Roosevelt emphasized by reading foreign economic administrator Leo T. Crowley's report on Germany's ferro-alloy shortage, the Anglo-American economic warfare staffs have found the point in the Nazi armor that is weakest.

Through that weak point in the Nazi armor, the British and Americans, who are co-operating closely at all points, are applying a carefully calculated strangling pressure. On May 12, William Stone of the foreign economic administration testified before the U.S. House appropriations committee that about 30,000 confidential documents relating to the enemy's economy were coming in every week. Out of this, and other masses of information, said Mr. Stone, "we are able to piece together a comprehensive picture of the enemy's economy."

As Mr. Crowley's report makes clear, the alloy metals are quintessential to the Nazi war effort. At the same time, the flow of these metals to Germany has been checked, and in some cases stopped.

The sources of these metals are mainly in the territories surrounding Germany. These territories are subject to many kinds of military and political action by the Allies. Diplomacy has played its part in this warfare. Of the war-essential metals, only vanadium is found in adequate supply within Germany.

TUNGSTEN NEEDED
The percentage figures on the other metals are illuminating. Spain and Portugal furnish about 94 per cent of Germany's tungsten supply. This ore, otherwise known as wolfram, has been lately much in the news. Turkey formerly supplied about 30 per cent of the German chrome requirements. The captured Nikol district in Russia supplied 60 per cent of Germany's manganese, and Norway nearly 40 per cent of the needed molybdenum. Finland supplied cobalt, molybdenum, and about 50 per cent of the Nickel Germany required.

Most of these supplies have now been cut off. Economic blockade, diplomatic pressure on neutral nations, recapture of territory and the blasting of air bombardment have now put Germany in a position where her steel industry faces steady and rapid deterioration.

Thus, Portugal, within the past weeks, has shut off all wolfram shipments to Germany and Spain, has reduced her shipments to merely token quantities, 40 tons a month. Norway's molybdenum mines have been effectively bombed. With the recapture of Nikol by the Red armies, that source of supply is lost to Germany. Turkey, by diplomatic and economic pressure, has been induced to end her chrome shipments to Germany.

PARTISANS AT WORK
Small supplies of these metals are still available to Germany in the Balkans. But here the partisans of Marshal Tito are taking a heavy toll by sabotage. And Germany must face the prospect of possible military action by the Allies on a big scale in that sphere, with the result that this last source of supply too will be drastically reduced if not extinguished.

So the ring—a ring of steel in the most literal sense of the word—is drawing tighter and tighter about the Nazis. For all the hardest steels the alloys are indispensable. It is known Germany has been producing about 35,000,000 tons a year, against 80,000,000 or 90,000,000.

CLOSE MARGIN
Inasmuch as German war economy has linked Europe from one end to the other in direct pipelines of material flow, the cutting off of these sources will have an immediate and powerful effect. The more so, as Germany has been operating on a close margin. The Germans already see the handwriting on the wall. Experts here estimate that the acute pinch will begin in not more than three months. Traditionally, the Germans have salvaged all material that could be used again. In the war they have gathered up every bit of available scrap. But this will not come anywhere near compensating their losses and they know it well.

The first effect of the growing shortages of these essential materials in Germany will be ruthless elimination of their use for any civilian purposes. Then, as the pinch grows tighter, the Germans will find it impossible to meet their minimum war replacement needs.

To the metal strangulation, being so relentlessly and mathematically applied by the Allies, must be added the growing oil, rubber and tin scarcity. The Ploesti oil fields, which supplied 30 per cent of Axis requirements, have been heavily and effectively bombed. The Far East, from which Germany hoped, by blockading runners, to obtain supplies of rubber, tin and tungsten, is now at the end of an artery that has been cut. The British and U.S. navies, warned by the economic warfare specialists, have seen to it that not one blockade runner of the many the Nazis hoped to use, has got through from the Far East this year.

Those who carry on this economic battle against Nazi Germany do not indulge in over-optimistic hopes that shortages alone will bring about German collapse. They feel bitter and savage fighting must reduce German armed might. But as time goes on, the Nazi sands are running out with what must seem to the Nazi leaders frightful rapidity. Should the war go on as long as a year more, Germany's ability to meet her technical requirements will have been so gravely affected that her armies will lack guns and tanks.

This means that the Germans cannot afford even a stalemate in the west. And it is all a piling up of evidence, were such evidence needed, that Nazi Germany now looks in the face of utter defeat.

Rowe Charges Liberal Regime Leads to Inflation

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. W. E. Rowe, P.C., Duferin-Simcoe, Ont., in the Commons this afternoon opened opposition criticism of the budget presented Monday by stating government policy had been reversed and the lid lifted from inflation.

"The old policies of 'pay as you go' and safeguards from inflation and the control of ordinary expenditures—which were adopted for war—now are disbanded for election," said Mr. Rowe.

He looked on the proposed payment of children's allowances with doubt. They appeared to be a "reckless political bid for power" made by a political party as a "piece of callous cynicism."

Mr. Rowe said the Progressive Conservatives sought to assure a sound social security program, while there had been "glittering generalities" of security in the Speech from the Throne with "pre-election bids for cash hand-outs to families."

GRANTS FOR PROVINCES
He said there should be a Dominion welfare fund from which grants would go to provinces; a halt to "government by order-in-council"; unemployment for those in the home defense army of 75,000 men; simplified taxation forms; revision of taxes on business and agriculture; protection of taxpayers' rights; explanation of increased ordinary costs of government; wider markets for farm products and encouragement of mineral development.

Mr. Rowe said the government should at once set up a Dominion-provincial welfare and assistance fund.

A body of experts nominated by all parties in the House should examine the "half-digested" social security proposals of the government and report on them.

Grants from the Dominion-provincial welfare fund would go to each province in accordance with its needs: so hospitals, taxing services and clinics might be expanded in urban, rural and hinterland areas. The Dominion should share with the provinces the burden of new capital expenditures for hospitals, convalescent homes and homes for the aged.

MANPOWER PROBLEMS
Mr. Rowe said the government's man-power policy represented "national humiliation." This policy cost the country between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000 annually to maintain an army "where there is no fighting."

Men in the home defense army should be turned back to the farm, the factories and the forest where they could produce for victory.

On every front, at home and abroad, he said, "our comrades plead for men." The government is fearful to move forward and ashamed to turn back. 75,000 men are at least without a mission, while the government adds another $150,000,000 to the struggling taxpayers' burden. Indeed, they are not as useful to an all-out war effort as the lost legion they fail to seek, or the 49,001 men the government admits it cannot find.

They purchase the certificates in the names of their children, to be used for their education... After the invasion the beaches of Normandy were littered with thousands of cartons of cigarettes. Before they left on D-day soldiers were given a liberal ration and the cartons were left by men killed and wounded in the action.

BRITISH COLUMBIA is still living up to its Reno-rivalling reputation. There are 57 divorce cases listed for trial in Vancouver next week... Some of the Victorians attending the Beacon Hill band concerts are getting a little weary of mixing the music with speech-making. Admitting the cause is sound, the returning servicemen to whom the speakers' remarks are directed, are not there to hear them... Gyros are wishing the best of luck to a new member Bill Wadsworth. Canadian-born, Bill served with the R.A.F. was through the Battle of Britain and now out of the service, is re-establishing himself as an electrical engineer.

PAT FLYNN, who was the star of the British Columbia basketball team which defeated Toronto Simpson Grads in the Canadian finals four years ago, has been reported missing... Sports-writer, noting saliva tests are to be made on all British Columbia race tracks, says it will make the going rough for some "of those old Bannicorns on which we were accustomed to wager." Five years ago he says he dropped into the Vancouver paddock and took a peep at the equipment of the sailing box. It consisted of a mickey of rye and a package of White Owl cigars.

IN A RECENT DISPATCH of Norman MacDonald's broadcast on short waves by the BBC, story of a daring Danish coup was revealed. It described how on the previous Sunday night performances at 20 of Copenhagen's leading cinemas were suddenly interrupted. Then the puzzled audience found itself watching a British film, caricaturing Hitler and other Nazi leaders. They marched to and fro on the screen and did familiar Nazi acrobatics to the tune of the "Lambeth Walk." Once the people in the cinema grasped the situation they laughed hilariously. When recorded anti-Nazi speeches accompanied the picture their enthusiasm increased. When this unscheduled performance came to an end, the cinema showing German films had to close down. What had happened was that Danish patriots had forced an entry into the projector-rooms and compelled the operators to substitute the anti-Nazi film. When the patriots departed they took with them the reels of the German film. None of the patriots was caught. As a reprisal the Germans ordered all cinemas in the Danish capital to shut.

THE GOLDEN EGG IS TRIPLE-YOLKED

The people of British Columbia—all the people—have been enriched by the harvest from our forests more than from any other activity. It is admitted, even by the critical, that over the years logging has made British Columbia what she is—Canada's third greatest centre of population. Logging has been the golden egg in which we all have shared.

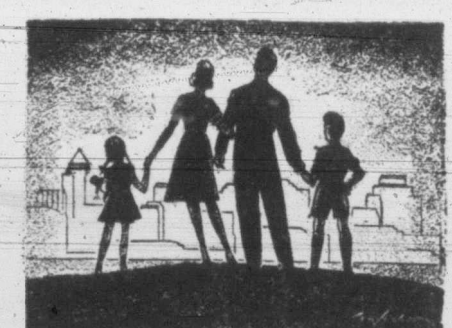

From the time when the first logger-settlers cleared the site for Hastings Mill, down the years' until the impressive contribution that logging has made to Canada's war production programme, the business and industry of logging has produced rich rewards for all concerned—in wages, in taxes, in profits, in a higher and more abundant standard of living.

It needed courage aplenty—perseverance and perspiration, too—from those early operators, and a willingness to take big risks at a time when foresight and initiative meant everything. Bloedel's were here in that day—one of the first to sense the great future that lay ahead for Canada's Pacific coast province. We had faith then and we still have that faith.

Now times and methods are changing. Science and research are devising better ways of logging and forestry. Even the product of the forest is itself evolving—from the honest timbers and stout boards of yesterday, to sleek veneers, plastic pulps and planks compressed from forest "waste," to strengthen and beautify the structures of tomorrow.

Still we of Bloedel's are confident that with a continuance of that private initiative which has built and enriched this mighty land, with co-operation between our governments, our technicians, our logging organizations and the public, British Columbia's forests can be made to continue their yield of golden eggs... in which each one of us may share.

Police Cannot Find Slayers of Henriot
LONDON (CP) — The Vichy radio acknowledged today that investigators had run up against a blank wall in attempts to find the slayers of Philippe Henriot, Vichy minister of propaganda, who was assassinated Tuesday night in Paris by 15 or 20 armed men. The broadcast said the assassins had escaped by automobile without leaving a clue to their identity.

Dewey Pledges Support To Fight War to Finish

By C. R. BLACKBURN
CHICAGO (CP) — Thomas E. Dewey, 42-year-old Governor of New York who won national fame as a "gang-busting" district attorney, today set out to win the Presidency of the United States and end 12 years of Democratic rule in the White House.
Before a tumultuous crowd of 25,000 in the Chicago Stadium he accepted the nomination handed him some eight hours earlier by virtually unanimous action of the Republican National Convention.
Early in his speech of acceptance Governor Dewey assured the Allied powers that the forthcoming campaign would strengthen and not weaken the war effort and he warned the Axis powers not to believe otherwise.
A Republican victory in next November's election would not mean the slightest interruption of the war effort. "We are with you to the limit of our resources and manpower," he declared, addressing himself to the Allied powers, and that meant in the effort to make an enduring peace as well as the effort for victory.
Governor Dewey brought applause when he expressed satisfaction Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio, heretofore the only active candidate for the presidential nomination, had retired from first place competition and taken second place on the Republican ticket as Vice-Presidential candidate.

Wide Changes In Criminal Code Urged By M.P.'s

OTTAWA (CP) — Some of the ablest lawyers in the Commons agree the Criminal Code needs revision, that many of the maximum sentences are out of line with modern times and with penalties for other offences in the code.
As the House Wednesday speedily passed the annual bill which makes amendments to the code, John Diefenbaker, P.C., Lake Centre, a prominent Saskatchewan criminal lawyer, proposed a committee of jurists, psychiatrists and experts in penal administration be set up to review the code.
Justice Minister St. Laurent said the proposal was a good one and hoped it would be taken up after the war.
MAIL THEFTS
Mr. Diefenbaker said he thought one of the sections being amended presented an anomaly. It provided a maximum penalty of life imprisonment for theft from the mails. The amendment was to remove the minimum penalty of three years imprisonment and permits the courts to impose shorter sentences.
Mr. Diefenbaker and some others contended there was no balance between a maximum penalty of life and a minimum of possibly a few days.
Mr. St. Laurent said it was possible to conceive cases of mail theft—such as the mail robberies of earlier times, in the light of which one section was probably framed originally—which would call for a life sentence while the removal of a dollar bill from a letter would call for a light sentence.
He saw no point in dropping the life sentence maximum unless the whole code was revised.
After giving the code amendments third reading the House spent an hour on fisheries department estimates and then adjourned to start the budget debate today with Hon. Earl Rowe, P.C., Dufferin-Simcoe, Ont., leading off as chief opposition financial critic.

thefts, the bill amending the Criminal Code would:
Increase the maximum penalty for knowingly delivering defective stores to the armed forces. The maximum prison term was increased from two to seven years and the fine from $5,000 to $50,000.
Provide for the hearing of appeals from summary convictions in Quebec province by the Superior Court instead of the Court of King's Bench, crown side. This would permit more expeditious disposal of appeals.
Replying to suggestions made during the debate, Mr. St. Laurent said the suggested committee to review the code might consider means of enlarging the possibility of appeal to the Supreme Court.

Casualties Make McTague Suspicious

OTTAWA (CP) — C. P. McTague, national chairman of the Progressive Conservative Party, has defined his recent Guelph, Ont., speech in which he called for immediate government action in making Canada's home army available for overseas service, as the considered opinion of the party and not only his own view.
Mr. McTague met some 20 Parliamentary Press Gallery reporters at his first press conference since resigning from the Ontario Appeal Court and assuming his new office.
He dealt, in reply to questions, with the manpower situation and family allowances. He said his address at Guelph was not a departure from the policies laid down by John Bracken, national leader of the party, and it had been based not on his individual viewpoint but after careful consultation with members of the party.
In the speech at Guelph June 19 in accepting nomination as Progressive Conservative candidate in South Wellington, Ont., Mr. McTague said Canada's national honor demanded immediate passage of an order-in-council

Harold G. Forson, 64, Dies in Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — Harold G. Forson, 64, of Vancouver, manager for B.C. of the Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation, is dead after a short illness.
A resident of Vancouver for 16 years, he was born in Toronto and entered the service of the Canada Permanent in 1905. He was secretary of the Mortgage and Trust Companies Association of British Columbia. Mr. Forson formerly resided in Toronto, Edmonton and Regina.
He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Alan W. Walmsley, Winnipeg, and Mrs. William H. Davidson, Vancouver.

YOUTH VS. AGE

Youth against age was the predominant theme of Governor Dewey's acceptance speech.
The task of achieving a lasting peace, he declared, "is no task to be entrusted to stubborn men, grown old and tired and quarrelsome in office."
"It seems," he declared, "that the great men who founded this

FREE HAND FOR STAFF

Governor Dewey, first Republican to win the New York office in 20 years, made these other promises:
1. The first and foremost job is to win the war, and to defeat "once and for all" the German and Japanese will to make war.
2. The present military high command is "doing a superb job" and should be allowed to continue without any civilian interference.
"I come to this great task as a free man," Mr. Dewey said. "I have made no pledges, promises or commitments, expressed or implied, to any man or woman. I shall make none, except to the American people."
Asserting that "we shall not make secure the peace of the world by mere words," Mr. Dewey reaffirmed his support of the Mackinac Island declaration of the Republican Party for responsible participation by the United States in an international security organization.

OF GREATER FORCE

His views on this question had been awaited eagerly by party members, who said that the new nominee's interpretation would be of more force in the campaign than the Republican foreign policy plank which was criticized by Wendell L. Willkie, the 1940 nominee, and several governors.
"We must have as our representatives in this task the ablest men and women America can produce," said the nominee, "and the structure they join in building must rest upon the solid rock of a united American public opinion."
Mr. Dewey declared "this election will bring an end to one-man government in America."
Thomas Edmund Dewey was born in Owosso, Michigan, March 24, 1902. He received his B.A. degree from the University of Michigan and his bachelor of laws at New York's Columbia University. In 1928 he married Frances Hutt and they have two sons. He was admitted to the New York bar in 1926. Like President Roosevelt, he is an Episcopalian. He is also a Free Mason. He has a Fifth Avenue home in New York City, but in recent years has lived in the Governor's Mansion at Albany, capital of New York State.

QUEBEC'S ELECTION

MUCH HAS HAPPENED IN CANADA and the rest of the world since the voters of Quebec went to the polls to elect their 21st Legislature—now dissolved. The war was then less than two months old and the Union Nationale administration of Mr. Maurice Duplessis had largely discredited itself. Its defeat by the Liberals under the leadership of Mr. Adélard Godbout was about as decisive as the electorate could make it. When the ballots were counted the victors had won 69 of the 86 seats, the Union Nationale Party 14, with a Conservative, a Nationalist and an Independent one each—compared with a 90-seat House at dissolution on Sept. 23, 1939, comprising 73 members of the Duplessis Union Nationale (government) Party, 11 Liberals, five Parti National, and one Independent Liberal. A redistribution bill passed at the recent session enlarged the representation to 91 members, creating two entirely new seats, and re-creating three others which had been abolished by a measure during the Union Nationale regime.

Regardless of the fact that Quebec and its people have a wide variety of provincial issues to engage their attention during the progress of the election campaign that will precede the voting on August 8, Mr. Godbout evidently has thought it advisable—and he is on sound ground—to warn the leaders of the Union Nationale and Bloc Populaire parties that federal matters should not be introduced. As a Canadian citizen, of course, he has a clear right to criticize or approve certain measures of the federal government. But as the Premier of Quebec, he quite properly tells the electorate he has the right to hope his government "will be judged according to its acts." And he adds:

"We will therefore carry on the battle on our own ground and not elsewhere, and we defy Mr. Duplessis, Union Nationale leader, or any other boaster to meet us on this ground without covering himself with shame. If Mr. Duplessis endeavors to avoid the provincial field it is because he is entirely defenceless there and because his political past is not one of the subjects he likes to discuss in public. I condemn and approve everything that recalls fanaticism whether it is near or far, no matter what it is or from where it comes."

It will be recalled that in the election of 1939, the Quebec members of the government of Mr. Mackenzie King took an active part. Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, then Minister of Justice, literally staking his political life on the outcome of the contest. And in view of Mr. Godbout's warning to his opponents, it is interesting to note Mr. Lapointe's reasons for his and his colleagues' intervention on that occasion. Here is an extract from his statement:

"If the controversy had remained purely provincial, we should have strictly abstained from any intervention. But Mr. Duplessis has believed it his duty not only to precipitate an election in a critical period and to sow seeds of discord at a time when national union is a sacred duty, but he has made the criticism of the federal government an issue of that election, and more particularly the criticism of the measures taken for the purpose of securing the effectiveness and success of the effort of Canada in the present conflict. A verdict in his favor would be a verdict against us. Under such circumstances, we cannot remain indifferent and our duty is to take up this unprovoked challenge."

"My colleagues and I, who are representing the province in the government of the country, need the confidence and the support of our fellow countrymen in order to have and to keep such authority as is necessary to the defence of their ideas and the safeguarding of their interests. I shall respectfully accept the decision of the people of my province; my colleagues from Quebec will accept it."

To what extent Mr. Godbout's oppositionists will refrain from introducing federal matters into the forthcoming campaign is purely conjectural. In any event, however, the contest soon to get under way may produce a good deal of interesting—if, perhaps, disturbing—controversy.

WILLKIE TO DEWEY

"YOU HAVE ONE OF THE GREAT OPPORTUNITIES OF HISTORY." So read the last sentence of Mr. Wendell Willkie's brief but cordial message of congratulation to Republican candidate Dewey yesterday. Those nine words are full of meaning and implication for the man whose conversion from the moderate isolationist school was somewhat slow and laborious—the dictum of Mackinac notwithstanding. And the Governor of New York is nothing if not astute. He knows and fully understands the kind of foreign policy which the unsuccessful G.O.P. candidate of 1940 firmly believes the United States should adopt. He realizes, too, that from now on he will watch his conduct of the Republican campaign with greater vigilance than the former ardent advocate of the Wilsonian doctrine. From the series of seven articles which Mr. Willkie presented free to the newspapers—after turning down one magazine's bid of $18,000 for the lot—Mr. Dewey obviously could not have failed to detect a new reaffirmation of the "One World" philosophy.

In one of those articles Mr. Willkie contends that the Republican Party should "emphasize that our sovereignty is not something to be hoarded, but something to be used. The United States should use its sovereignty in co-operation with other powers to create an effective international organization for the good of all." Small nations should have a say; their destiny should not be decided by the great powers. "Finally, the Republican platform should state the conviction that the ideologies for which we fight have not become blurred for us. We are fighting a war for freedom . . . not only at home but everywhere in the world. . . . But while our forces are winning the armed victory for us, we have already begun to lose the things that victory could bring. Three years ago, two years ago, the United States had the material, the political, the moral leadership of the world. Today we have only the material leadership. We have lost political leadership through ineptness and delay. We have lost moral leadership through attempted expediency. The Republican Party should frame and pursue a foreign policy that will recapture America's lost leadership."

As Mr. Ernest Lindley, close to the White House, said in the Washington Post last Saturday, those Rooseveltians who have praised Mr. Willkie's series of articles have only been concurring in a verdict previously reached by many Republicans: 1. That Willkie's views on both international and domestic affairs are not far removed from Mr. Roosevelt's. 2. That Willkie's views are not representative of the majority of Republican politicians. That this verdict is obviously correct was indicated not only by the fact that Mr. Willkie, in spite of his excellent run in 1940, had no chance of nomination yesterday, but also by the fact that the controlling influences at the convention were determined to keep him at arm's length. Had he gone to the Chicago gathering, moreover, it was generally understood he would have been permitted to do nothing more than sit on the platform.

What Mr. Willkie chooses to do between now and next November, however, is anybody's guess. But the article in which he again pleads with the Republican Party to go all out for the removal or drastic reduction of the old tariff barriers, is of vital interest to Canada—as is, of course, his demand for a world organization such as Mr. Mackenzie King has advocated.

TOMORROW'S $7,000 QUOTA

VICTORIA'S FIRST CIVIC WAR SAVINGS Stamp Day is announced for Friday, with a quota of $7,000 set for the day to keep this city in line with other cities of British Columbia.

Merchants of the city, Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich are co-operating to make War Savings Stamps the No. 1 sales commodity of the day. Banks will also feature them. Miss Canada girls will be in action with the Garrison military band parading down town in the morning and the Royal Canadian Navy band in the afternoon. Behind the drive is Mayor McGavin's civic committee representing community organizations and including the retail merchants' section of the Chamber of Commerce and other business groups.

The occasion provides us here at home with an opportunity to back up our invasion troops as they fight forward yard by yard in France. They went across for us, now we should be eager to "come across" for them.

BAD NEWS FROM CHINA

THROUGHOUT THE WHOLE FIGHTING area of this global conflict there is only one bad spot at the moment. That is in China—where Japanese forces have surrounded the vital railway junction of Hengyang in Hunan province. Should the city fall, the way would then be open for the enemy to advance on Kuowang, provisional capital of Kwangtung, or on Kweilin, provisional capital of Kwangsi, from which most foreign agencies have already withdrawn or are now withdrawing.

Latest Japanese drives, of course, have had the double objective of cutting China in two and the possession of the entire stretch of the Hankow-Canton railroad—which would give the enemy an interior line of communication all the way from Manchuria to South China. Japanese control of that vital rail artery likewise would deprive our gallant ally of American General Chennault's 14th Air Force and the important airfields from which its fighters and bombers have been able to hit Nippon's supply line along the Formosa Strait.

These enemy successes—particularly the capture of Changsha after three hitherto abortive and costly attempts—recall the advantage Tokyo gained by the Sakhalin oil and coal pact of March 31. The termination of her agreement with Russia in this matter enabled Nippon to throw into that fourth battle for Changsha new formations of seasoned troops from Manchuria.

The situation which confronts China today not only is more serious than that obtaining at any time since the loss of Hankow and Canton in the fall of 1938; it serves impressive notice on the United Nations of the urgent necessity of getting more aid to the forces of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek before it is too late. China's war with Nippon will go into its seventh year next week.

NOTES

Note on Jap brains: Without late models to copy, most of their weapons are obsolete and pathetically inferior.

It takes several weeks to finish a sensational magazine article: one to read it, and about four to wait for the correction.

Russian Steamroller

By CONSTANTINE BROWN

IN FULL MOTION

THE VIOLENT Russian offensive by about 150 divisions which has developed since June 23 in the most vulnerable German sector of the eastern front is taken as an indication that the Soviet high command is satisfied with Allied operations in the west.

The Russian steamroller is now in full motion. Red divisions from south of Lwow to Vitebsk are estimated to total between 300 and 450. During the lull between the winter and summer offensives the Russians gathered in the rear all the necessary war material and supplies to insure the success of their new—and possibly last—big push against the Nazis.

There were some suspicious observers who thought Moscow would be slow in synchronizing its military moves with those of the Allies in the west.

Those who were aware that political and military problems had been discussed and settled at Teheran had no misgivings about the attitude of Premier Stalin.

The Soviet government was given so much political latitude in eastern, central and southeastern Europe that the Russian leaders would have been shortsighted indeed had they not taken advantage of the Allies' successful operations to crush Hitler. And Stalin has never been shortsighted.

The expulsion of the high-ranking members of the Finnish Legation from Washington was the least important but also the last political gesture to convince Stalin that nothing decided geographically at Teheran would be changed by the other Allies.

TAKING NO CHANCES

THE SOVIETS REALIZE even better than some other governments and peoples that a military victory is of little consequence unless it is followed by a full diplomatic victory. And while the Russians have endorsed the various plans for a better theoretical postwar world, they are taking no chances—and have insisted that Russia is placed in such a position that she will have to fear no other nation or coalitions after the war is over.

The Polish Premier, Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, who had received a great personal welcome in Washington, left the United States a disappointed man because he realized from his conversations with President Roosevelt and Under-Secretary of State Stettinius that he would have to give up all hopes of a truly sovereign Poland. According to reliable reports, he agreed that Poland would have to make territorial sacrifices. He did not oppose them because he realized Poland was in no position to remain adamant concerning her eastern boundaries. But he was not able to obtain even a vague promise that the remainder of Poland would enjoy full sovereignty.

ATLANTIC CHARTER NOT FOR POLAND

PREMIER MIKOLAJCZYK is said to have been unable to obtain any definite promise that the Atlantic Charter would be applied to Poland in the full meaning of "sovereignty" of states as understood when it was originally drafted by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill. No such commitment was given him and he understood why Washington was reluctant to discuss these matters generally rather than specifically.

He is said to have failed to obtain a cut and dried promise of getting war material for the Polish underground, which is determined to fight the Germans regardless of the present political complexities. The Polish underground is said to comprise about 1,000,000 trained men, who despite unpleasant experiences with individual Red Army commanders which involved the execution of some of their leaders, are unflinchingly on the side of the Allies. All the support to be given this organization must come from the Russian side. Lease-lend supplies will not be sent to Poland through the government in exile which is fully represented at underground headquarters in the occupied territories.

The Polish Premier, a peasant himself, was well lined and winded at Washington, but left empty handed. He fully realizes that whatever portion of the Atlantic Charter may be applied to his country will depend on the decision of Moscow. And Premier Stalin's refusal to give any encouragement—even of a general nature—while Mikolajczyk was in Washington led the Polish leader to conclude that the fate of his country has been settled without appeal.

NO CHANCE OF STALEMATE NOW

THERE IS NO longer any possibility that the war will end in a stalemate as Hitler had hoped ever since the end of the Teheran conference. Hitler's doom is final, and probably will come in the next few months. The power of resistance of the German armies still is formidable. But the question is whether the real rulers of the Reich—the German generals—will feel that it is better to give up or sacrifice hundreds of thousands of German lives in vain.

Having failed in their hope of preventing the Allies from establishing good beachheads in France, it now appears likely to observers familiar with German military-political methods that some other means will be devised to prevent the military failure from becoming catastrophic so far as the future of the Reich as an entity is concerned.

In the meantime, the Red Armies will continue to hammer at the strong German fortifications separating the Baltic States and Poland from the Reich. The enthusiasm of the Russian soldiers is enhanced not only by the knowledge that the end of the war will see their country in a dominant position as a world power, but also the knowledge that Russia's frontiers will be expanded further than any of its previous rulers ever dreamed of.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By J. M. ROBERTS Jr.
Associated Press War Analyst

The speed of the Soviet army's advance through White Russia, with the capture of Minsk apparently only a few days away, supports previous reports that Hitler has withdrawn his major forces to shorter lines back in pre-war Poland—possibly along the Bug River.

For a year there have been reports from various sources that the Germans were preparing to stand at the Bug, the "Ribbentrop" border established in 1939, and that if driven back from there a last ditch fight would be made along the Vistula.

This would not mean an uninterrupted Russian march over the 300 miles from their present central positions, or the 100 miles from their westernmost salient at Kowel, to Brest Litovsk. Delay will be attempted by the enemy at every strong point, principally at Minsk, Baranowicz, Bialystok and Brest Litovsk, and there probably will be a tremendous battle for Lwow when the fighting is extended southward.

But, as in Italy, the Germans probably are down to the point where little effort will be made to save territory which obviously cannot be held for long.

The comparative nearness of the war's end must be as obvious to Hitler as to anyone. If he is to keep going in the hope of some "break" he must gather his weakened forces into a more compact area.

Whether even this forced concentration will enable him to carry on through the fall and obtain another winter stalemate is open to question. That he can withstand concerted pressure from the Channel to the Mediterranean, from the Baltic to the Danube, is out of the question. He apparently knows he would be knocked out of the war by fall if he even tried it.

BICYCLE SAFETY

From Health League of Canada News
Ten rules for safe bicycle riding:
Obey all traffic regulations, such as red and green lights, one-way streets, stop signs, and signals.
Ride in a straight line.
Have a white light in front and a danger signal on rear, for night riding.
Have satisfactory signalling device, such as bell, to warn of approach.
Give pedestrians right-of-way.
Look out for cars at crossings and pulling out of parking places. Don't hitch to other vehicles.
Don't carry another person on a bicycle.
Keep bicycle in good condition.

PREPARING FOR PEACE

The great need in preparing all countries for the fight to win the peace is the necessity for acting quickly against indifference and selfishness which if allowed to predominate will lead to other wars. Kathleen Courtney of Great Britain, vice-chairman, League of Nations Union.

NATIONAL DESTINIES

I am everlastingly convinced that the destinies of the hundreds of millions of men and women who happen to be nationals of wicz, Bialystok and Brest Litovsk, and there probably will be a tremendous battle for Lwow when the fighting is extended southward.

But, as in Italy, the Germans probably are down to the point where little effort will be made to save territory which obviously cannot be held for long.

PIFFLE PRAYERS

From San Francisco Chronicle
Yoshuro Moto, former Consul General at San Francisco, the other day put up public prayer at the Yasukuni shrine "for the safety and welfare of the 200,000 Japanese still interned in the United States." Pure propaganda bilge! Mr. Moto's boss, the Japanese army, does not give a rap for the Japanese interned in this or any other country, or for what happens to them, except as they may be used as dummies for propaganda piffle for home or East Asiatic consumption. As Mr. Moto well knows, these Japanese are far better off than their relatives now in Japan. If the Japanese army could get hold of these internees it would probably give them all the bastinado not being at home in Japan to be conscripted.

THIS WAR—FOUR YEARS AGO

June 29, 1940—Six thousand Polish troops crossed from Syria to join British forces in Palestine after Gen. Eugene Mitterhauser, French commander-in-chief in Middle East, announced cessation of hostilities in Syria. Two killed, eight injured in Nazi air raids on Britain.

"Wholesome Food Ends Constipation"

"Sure, I'm happy about ALL-BRAN. It really solved my constipation, and so gently. It proved that I could get harsh embarrassing purgatives—which at best gave only temporary relief. So that's why I praise ALL-BRAN—eating it keeps me regular—and it's a wholesome cereal, too!"

Good food, as well as a gentle laxative. That's the big news on ALL-BRAN—if your constipation is due to lack of "bulk" in the diet. So simple, too. Just eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly, and drink plenty of water. This pleasant cereal helps to produce smooth-working "bulk" and prepare wastes for easy elimination. Then, to stay regular, you'll enjoy eating ALL-BRAN every day. Remember, it's a cereal—not a medicine. Your grocer has ALL-BRAN in 2 handy sizes. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

Rolls Replace Cakes, Cookies Save Your Sugar Quota

By CATHERINE SIMPSON
Victoria Home Economics Association for Nutrition Committee

Nothing will establish your reputation as a cook more quickly than a pan of home-made rolls or buns. They help save sugar by taking the place of cake and cookies.

Laura Pepper of the Dominion Department of Agriculture says "with only two simple basic recipes it is no trick at all to produce an amazing variety of rolls and buns." Made with whole-grain flour they will be richer in minerals and vitamins. If your family prefers white flour use Canada Approved Vitamin B flour, as it retains a larger percentage of these nutrients than does ordinary white flour.

It gives excellent results when a few points of difference are remembered.

1. It needs a warmer place for rising than ordinary flour.
2. Do not let the dough rise until double in bulk. Instead, press the dough lightly with the finger. If the depression remains, the dough has risen enough. If it disappears quickly more rising is required.
3. Foods made with Canada Approved Flour take the same time to cook, but brown more quickly than those made with ordinary flour.

BASIC REFRIGERATION DOUGH

1 1/2 cups milk, 1 cake compressed yeast, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, 4 tablespoons mild flavored fat, 3 1/2 to 4 cups flour.

Scald milk. Dissolve yeast cake and sugar in 1/2 cup milk, cooled to lukewarm. Add remaining cup of milk and salt and fat. When this is lukewarm combine with yeast mixture and add about 3 1/2 cups flour. Turn out on a floured board and knead for 8 to 10 minutes, adding necessary additional flour to prevent dough sticking to the board. Form into rolls and allow to rise until double in bulk (about two hours). Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees F. for 20 to 25 minutes. To store in refrigerator, place in a bowl after kneading, grease the surface, cover with wax paper, store. Will keep 6 or 7 days. Yield, 2 dozen rolls.

SOFT OR CRUSTY ROLLS

Cut off small, uniform pieces, fold sides under until top is smooth and dough is round. For high, soft rolls place close together on baking sheet; for crusty rolls place one inch apart; for very crusty rolls place in greased muffin tins.

CLOVERLEAF ROLLS

Shape very small pieces of dough into rolls, brush with melted fat and place three rolls in each muffin tin.

FINGER ROLLS

Cut dough into uniform small pieces, shape into balls. With the palm of the hands roll until of desired length, taking care to make them smooth.

CRESCENTS

Roll dough 1/4 inch thick and, using a sharp knife, cut in 3-inch squares. Brush with melted fat. Starting at one corner, roll to opposite corner, pressing the points firmly down while rolling. Bring the two ends almost together to form the crescent.

KNOTS

Roll dough 1/4 inch thick, cut in narrow strips and roll with palm of hand into 8-inch strips. Tie in a loose knot.

TWISTS

Prepare strips as for knots. Twist from ends in opposite directions, then bring ends together and pinch to hold firmly.

Brushing the tops with milk, egg and milk, egg and water or sugar and water improves the appearance of rolls and buns. All recipes from the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Forest Commission Hears Mulholland On Conservation

If timber production in British Columbia is to be maintained during the period it will take to convert to silvicultural methods of managing the forests, it will require that 1,800,000,000 feet be taken out annually for a period of 100 years, according to F. D. Mulholland of the Society of Forest Engineers, appearing before the Forestry Commission on Wednesday.

Mr. Mulholland stated that he could revise this production figure upwards if more areas were made accessible, or if logging methods were improved to give greater utilization of the timber resources. He was also prepared to revise the figure upwards by 500,000,000 feet if the rotation period were lowered to 60 years for the production of pulp wood rather than saw timber.

Of the 10,000,000 acres of forest accessible in British Columbia at the present time, Mr. Mulholland said there are approximately 7,000,000 in mature timber which he considers a "waste of capital income," because this acreage is not producing growing timber. "This is not good forestry," he declared. "However, it is necessary to keep these forest reserves, because if they are cut too quickly there will be nothing for the industry to depend on while the new growth is coming up." At the present time, he explained, there is only approximately 1,250,000 acres in new growth, which is a very unbalanced forest economy.

The greater part of Mr. Mulholland's testimony during the morning session of the commission was taken up with a definition of terminology used in his report, "Forest Resources of British Columbia," which was made to the government in 1937. He explained in some detail the procedure used to arrive at the estimates, and also discussed such terms as "Sustained annual yield," and "working circle."

He described the annual increase of such trees as the Douglas fir and the hemlock, explaining about their periods of greatest growth and how the correct application of silvicultural methods would bring production of "average" areas up to that of the best sites at present under natural growth conditions.

The greater part of Mr. Mulholland's testimony during the afternoon sitting of the commission was taken up with a description of silviculture and forestry methods of Finland and Sweden, which countries he visited in 1937. He had the highest praise for the methods used there, and for the results that have been achieved, which guarantee an annual sustaining yield sufficient for the timber industries in those countries.

The laws in those countries are very stringent to protect the forests, he explained, "stating quite definitely that no mature timber can be cut without reforestation, and no immature timber can be cut except for improvement purposes."

During today's session Mr. Mulholland will present a brief on behalf of the Society of Forest Engineers.

RESORTS FILLING UP
Most of Vancouver Island's resorts are rapidly filling up for July and August, according to Geo. Willis of the Vancouver Island Travel Service at the Strathcona Hotel. Willis who has just made a survey, says, "There are many resorts that cannot take any more. If you are planning a vacation, Mrs. Margaret Willis will contact your favorite resort by phone at once by applying personally to our travel bureau."

Child Delinquency Grave Problem, Police Chiefs Told

Principles now being followed in Canada to combat juvenile delinquency were totally inadequate, said Brig.-Gen. D. C. Draper, C.M.G., D.S.O., Toronto chief of police, in an address on "Juvenile Delinquency," before the conference of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada, which went into its second day in the Empress Hotel Wednesday.

Juvenile delinquency became a real problem in Canada about 1935, he said, and it had grown to be even more of a problem since the war. It was a vital problem, he said, which called for the best service police and citizens of Canada could give.

Confusion and excitement of the present-day gripped youngsters, he said, and the dissolution of homes due to war also increased the problem.

A program must be planned and then put into force, he said, "We want a better world," he said, "but it won't be a better world until youth is taken care of."

Failure to deal with the juvenile problem now could simply mean an expenditure of millions of dollars later on, he warned.

Homes, police departments, churches and youth organizations should plan together for the betterment and education of youth, he said.

Education counteracted crime, he said, and parents should be warned of their responsibilities.

Years of training and self-discipline were the background of morale welfare of the country, he said, and continued by saying that, in his opinion, schools were becoming too secular and should adopt a more religious system.

GUIDANCE AND EDUCATION

Vocational guidance and health education were necessary in schools, he said, and suggested schools be used as the "playground of the neighborhood."

He had watched, year after year, he said, as children who lacked the training went first of all to industrial schools, then into reformatories, and, finally, into penitentiaries.

He hoped to see the day, he continued, when the government would take up the challenge and realize child welfare today was of prime importance to the country's welfare.

Liquor, undesirable motion pictures, crime magazines and certain radio programs all helped in creating delinquency amongst juveniles, he said.

Churches, homes and schools did not function with enough vigor, he contended, and pointed out the success in Britain in combating juvenile delinquency.

There was nothing like the Borstal system in Canada, he said, and he held it most desirable to keep juveniles out of penal institutions if at all possible to avoid associating them with habitual criminals.

Henry C. Hall, Victoria magistrate, next addressed the conference on "Police and Democracy."

First duty of the state, he said, was to protect its boundaries, and second, to maintain law and order within the state itself.

He traced the growth of police in the world, condemning centralization of control of police as giving essential powers to tyrants.

He pointed out examples of dictatorship among police when the central power lay with a state and said the British had brought in the first efficient and uniform police force under Sir Robert Peel in 1829.

With local control, he contended, police did not come under the orders of some authority far off from where the enforcement was being practiced.

Under the local control, he said, people did not look on police as spies, but rather as friends. There was much a constable must know to perform his duty efficiently, he continued, and stressed the fact police, while at times were engaged in somewhat simple tasks, were also called upon to risk their lives in the preservation of law and order.

Police were essential to the up-

Contractors Name Officers for Year

At the Victoria Contractors' Association annual dinner, with 35 members present, A. B. Whitman was elected vice-president for fifth consecutive year. The executive elected follows: A. Middleton, president; A. Whitman, vice-president; P. M. Townsend, secretary-treasurer; directors, H. M. Cowper, W. S. Bartlett, H. R. Brown, A. V. Wilkinson, W. J. Drysdale, A. E. Evans and H. A. Bradley.

H. R. Brown, retiring president, gave a report on the past year's activities. A. Middleton gave a talk on the good of the association's work, and a general picture of its organization. He pointed out that the association now has 75 per cent of the building contractors and the sub-contractors in greater Victoria.

Manitobans and friends will meet in Beacon Hill Park for their annual basket picnic, July 5, 2:30 p.m. All former residents of Manitoba are invited, and men and women in the forces will be welcomed. Hot water will be provided.

Holding of democracy, he said, and that force must be within the realm of self-government.

Ed. G. Robinson Stars at Dominion

Hollywood has a short memory. This applies not to the speed with which filmland forgets old faces in favor of new, but to the swiftness with which it spreads rumors as gospel truth, and forgets their lack of basis.

The rumor now is that Edward G. Robinson is the most typed actor on the screen. Proof is offered in the fact that Eddie, who used to be typed as a gangster, is portraying sea captain. Robinson's latest sea-faring role is in 20th Century-Fox's "Tampico," opening tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre, in which he is starred with Lynn Bari, with Victor McLaglen heading the featured cast.

But Robinson himself denies the rumor.

to the screen of the Atlas Theatre today.

Filmed on the Crow Indian Reservation, and starring Joel McCrea, Maureen O'Hara and Linda Darnell, 20th Century-Fox's location picture for "Buffalo Bill" was the first motion picture outfit to be brought into that primitive region.

Camera crew and players, including the stars and featured players Thomas Mitchell, Edgar Buchanan and Anthony Quinn, had to "pack in" on horseback and live in tents far beyond the borders of civilization for three weeks.

Fans of All Ages Like 'Shantytown'

Sweet entertainment, guaranteed by this reviewer as sure to please both old and young alike, is "Shantytown," the new Republic picture starring Mary Lee, which opened a three-day run today at the Rio Theatre.

Mary plays the part of "Liz" Corty, a vivacious and lovable teen-aged girl who lives "on the wrong side of the tracks" in a ramshackle boarding house operated by her mother. Her efforts to help Bill and Virginia Allen, a young married couple who have become fugitives from the law due to Bill's accidental involvement with a crime ring, provide the theme of the story.

OAK BAY-PLAZA THEATRES
 Gene Kelly, who is currently being co-starred with Rita Hayworth in Columbia's technicolor musical, "Cover Girl," at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, thinks that motion pictures are a happier medium than the stage for dancers.

and put them on the ceiling, under the floor, to the right or to the left, since some dance steps can best be seen from impossible angles. On the stage, you're always dancing on the fourth wall; in pictures, the camera is the audience and it can travel to wherever the dancer prefers. It's a great thing for dancing."

'Stormy Weather' Showing at York

How much music does it take to make a musical picture? The answer to this question can be found in 20th Century-Fox's smash musical, "Stormy Weather," when it opens today at the York Theatre.

With enough top-notch entertainers to fill several musicals the film devotes 75 per cent of its running-time to music, songs and dances.

Lena Horne, sensational torch singer, Bill "Bojangles" Robinson and Cab Calloway top the long list of outstanding entertainers in the cast, with able assistance

"Stormy Weather" is a musical cavalcade showing the changing trends in the public's musical tastes from World War one up to the present "live" craze.

CAPITOL THEATRE
 "See Here, Private Hargrove," the hilarious best-seller based on army life, has been made into one of the funniest screen comedies of the year, in the film, which is now at the Capitol Theatre, a group of young players make sure-fire bids for stardom.

These include young Robert Walker, who embarked on his screen career as the sailor in "Bataan," in the title role of the hapless Hargrove, and lovely Donna Reed, whose most recent appearances were in "The Man from Down Under" and "The Human Comedy," is cast as Hargrove's sweetheart. True to the army, he meets her while she is working in a canteen at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

Full Authenticity in 'Corvette K-225'

To guarantee the utmost in authenticity in Howard Hawks' "Corvette K-225," the Universal picture which dramatizes the war in the North Atlantic, Lieut. John Rhodes Sturdy, R.C.N., was assigned by the Canadian government to act as technical advisor. The new film, now at the Cadet Theatre, stars Randolph Scott.

Sturdy inspected the clothing of each of the leading cast members before they went before the cameras. He also assisted in supervising the building of sets to make certain that they conformed with Canadian streets, naval offices and wharves.

Red Cross Notes

METCHOSIN—A garden fair was held in the Metchoshin Hall. Flower and vegetable displays were featured and tea and strawberry shortcake were served. Mrs. R. F. Mathews acted as recorder for the exhibits. J. A. Milligan officiated at the door, and Mrs. Geoffrey Roy and Mrs. W. Witty assisted in serving refreshments with helpers from among senior children of the Metchoshin and Albert Head Schools. Mrs. J. A. Milligan had the home cooking stall assisted by Mrs. R. S. Peacock and Mrs. Cyril Jackson. Mrs. J. D. McCreight acted as conveyor for the Junior Red Cross poster exhibit and the stall of hand-made articles for sale by the smaller children of Metchoshin School, and Mrs. David Hewlett conducted a guessing contest in aid of the Junior children's war effort. Prizes for the excellent posters, judged earlier by Mrs. E. J. T. Woodward, were awarded by Hon. Mark Kearley. Donors of the prizes of War Savings Stamps were Mrs. Woodward, Mrs. Gildea, Miss Glyde, Mrs. McCreight and the Red Cross, Metchoshin Unit. An exhibit of unusual types of lilies and other blooms was the work of Mr. Beckingham. Mrs. W. L. Whitney-Griffiths retained the perpetual challenge cup for the highest aggregate points.

ESQUIMALT—A garden party will be held Aug. 16 at the home of Maj. A. G. Piddington, 441 Lampson Street.

DIVERS' SUITS—One of the most unique requests ever made to a Red Cross workroom was received in Vancouver for six knitted divers' suits for use on the Pacific coast. These outfits, which took a great deal of knitting, are made of thick white wool and consist of long jerseys and pants. A special group of speedy knitters turned these out in a rush order and now, many feet under water, six divers are warm and protected through the women workers of the Red Cross.

COLUMBIA UNIT—Sum of $105 was realized for Red Cross funds at the re-make revue and tea held in Marigold Hall Wednesday afternoon. The convener, Miss W. Seymour, introduced Mrs. H. S. Beckett of the Victoria branch, who declared the sale open. Mrs. J. McNair Paterson spoke of the clothes that had been remade by the workers. Children modeling the clothes were Doris and Janet Hawes, Bryan Robinson, Shirley Knowlton, Mary Knightly and Maureen Jones. Visitors from the Victoria Branch included Mrs. Beckett, Mrs. J. W. Spencer, Mrs. J. Grimmonson and Mrs. Stewart Clark. Workers responsible for the clothes, which were all for sale, were Mrs. Paterson, designer; Mesdames G. Plater, G. Mayfield, T. Whelton, M. W. Sommers, C. Hawes, E. Robinson, E. Knowlton, J. Clark, W. C. Scott, Berry. The tea was in charge of the Misses K. and E. Brown, assisted by Mesdames R.

Police Chiefs Hear About V.D. Control

There are an estimated 300,000 syphilis in Canada, of whom 200,000 do not yet know they have the dread disease, according to Lt. Col. D. H. Williams, chief of the V.D. Control Division, Dept. of Pensions and National Health, who addressed the third session of the conference of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada held in Empress Hotel Wednesday.

Over a 10-year period, he continued, an estimated 5,000 middle-aged men had entered asylums with syphilis-riddled brains. It was estimated that between 6,000 to 12,000 Canadians died each year as a result of having the terrible disease, he continued.

In one city, he said, he had seen as many as 93 children and babies attending clinics for syphilis treatment, children who were born with the disease through no fault of their own.

The problem of venereal disease, he said, was to a great extent due to the failure to control juvenile delinquency.

Since July 1, 1943, he said, the Dept. of Pensions and National Health had combined with the armed forces to fight venereal disease.

The government planned, he said, to produce a booklet for the public shortly, entitled "Twenty Years of Venereal Disease in Canada." It would be one of the most appalling and tragic stories ever to be told in Canada, he added.

Many young men and women did not know when they had syphilis, the doctor said, due to the fact symptoms were so hard to recognize, unless a blood test were taken. And, he continued, 75 per cent of the people who contracted syphilis contracted it between the ages of 18 and 30.

The disease, he said, could be hidden for as long as 20 years.

the diseased person looking completely well and healthy, until, when in middle age, he was suddenly hit by the disease.

Gonorrhea is different, he said, as it arises quickly and can be dealt with quickly. But for syphilis, he recommended blood tests for everyone.

PENICILLIN A CURE

It was now possible, he continued, to cure 98 per cent of gonorrhea cases with a single injection of the drug penicillin. Penicillin might be, he added, as effective a cure for syphilis, but it was still too early for any definite conclusions to be drawn.

Never was a time more hopeful from the point of view of treatment, he said, but the spread of the disease lay mainly with promiscuous sexual intercourse, and not, as many people believed, through casual, every-day contact.

Norway and Sweden had made great steps, he said, and Great Britain, in 20 years, had cut its venereal disease rate in half. The Russian army, he continued, had the best venereal rate of all the Allied armies, and it was said to be practically non-existent there.

A national conference of Canadian health authorities had set a program for combating the evil, he said, setting up four sectors represented by health, legal, moral and welfare interests.

If venereal disease were a medical problem alone, he said, it could have been dealt with long ago—but it was, instead, a social problem which must be faced by mankind.

Venereal disease and social injustices were blood brothers, he said, and only social security would wipe it out. Police agencies, he added, had given a splendid response in combating the problem.

Solution of the problem, he concluded, was to banish accessibility to diseased sources.

Following Lt. Col. Williams' address, Elliot Ness, U.S. Director of Social Protection, and Michael F. Morrissey, president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police and Law Enforcement Specialists, spoke on the way in which the United States was combatting the same social evil.

For Safety Zone On Beach Drive

Approval of the Oak Bay Council was given Wednesday night to a proposal sent in by G. Murdoch, 2240 Beach Drive, seeking establishment of a 15-m.p.h. safety zone on Beach Drive.

The proposal, which will have to go through a B.C. provincial police commission, stated an increasing number of children would be making use of Willows Beach Park in the coming months and suggested the zone extend for at least 100 feet south of Dalhousie Street to at least 100 feet north of the northern boundary of the park.

Reeve L. Woodhouse, commenting on the accident in which two Esquimalt schoolboys were fatally injured when struck by an army truck, stated he had had little trouble in Oak Bay so far as military vehicles were concerned.

Approval was given to a letter from the B.C. Electric Railway offering a contribution of $144 toward a sewer extension in the Uplands, and instructions were issued for the work to be carried out.

A letter was received objecting to the proposed rodeo to be held at the Willows, Reeve Woodhouse saying he understood the rodeo was all of, anyway.

Approval was given to a proposal for the extension of water services to two lots on Crescent Road.

Final reading was given to a by-law providing for the sale of eight tax-sale lots totaling a value of $2,380.

Initial reading was given to four more by-laws, including one for the sale of tax-sale lots, and another providing for control over architectural design of buildings in the retail and garage districts.

Plan Collection Of Used Magazines

As soon as arrangements can be made for a sub-depot, it is planned to start a campaign to urge citizens of Victoria to leave used magazines at the post office for distribution to servicemen, it was announced by the Victoria Citizens' War-services Committee.

The proposal of the committee that used magazines deposited at the post office here be sent to a Victoria sub-depot, is in the hands of the Post Office Department at Vancouver. On Wednesday representatives of the committee discussed the plan with George H. Gardiner, Victoria postmaster, who has written Vancouver officials.

Under a Dominion-wide plan, magazines left unaddressed at any post office are sent to a depot in each province. Maj. S. H. Okell, Pacific Command Auxiliary Services officer, discussed the question with the committee.

If the new system is instituted, the committee hopes to receive enough magazines to send to the forces in Italy and France, as well as to servicemen on the island. Between May 1 and June 26, the I.O.E. magazine depot here distributed 60,905 magazines to island stations and merchant ships.

Mrs. Hobart Molson of the Red Cross and Superintendent Harold Butters of Canadian Legion War Services, are arranging to establish a booth at the dock to welcome returning servicemen.

The committee voted $50 to the Women's Voluntary Services. A. H. Pease reported that $2,000 worth of salvage had been sold in May.

Renew Notice to End Lease of Willows

Headquarters of Pacific Command, National Defence Department, today repeated notice to the city of the intention to quit the Willows and cease payment of rent at the end of next month.

The letter, which said no reply had been received from the previous notice, said the lease would terminate July 31 and no further rental payments would be made after that date.

"In accordance with covenants contained in the said indenture of lease, whereby certain restorations are to be put into effect on the termination of the lease, a representative of the Pacific Command Engineer Officer will contact you at an early date with a view to reaching a mutual detailed agreement on the question of necessary restorations," the letter said.

A permit for $1,000 alterations to the duplex at 966 Bank Street was issued by the city building inspector Wednesday to Mrs. R. J. Stillman. The changes will convert the premises into a four-suite apartment.

Coke is now being produced in Utah from the Geneva coal mine in the southeastern part of the state, for a steel plant near Provo which will supply ship plates for west coast shipbuilding.

V.D. Control Checks U.S. Army's Worst Enemy—Eliot Ness

In the last war, venereal disease was the U.S. army's greatest enemy, putting a third more men out of action than did actual combat, Eliot Ness, U.S. director of Social Protection, Washington, told a public meeting under the auspices of the Council of Social Agencies in the Empress Hotel Wednesday night. It would have been as bad in this war if control measures had not been taken, he added.

Mr. Ness, with Michael F. Morrissey, president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police and Law Enforcement Specialists, and W. G. Dixon, assistant, to Lt. Col. Donald H. Williams, chief of V.D. control in Canada, outlined measures taken to curb the disease.

Medical examinations when the U.S. entered the war showed 45 of every 1,000 men examined to be infected by syphilis. The lowest state showed five per 1,000 and the highest 170 per 1,000, with the rate among negroes in one state 435 per 1,000. The latter group were located in the southern section where army camps were established.

Action by the U.S. authorities had led to an integrated service-military campaign which included checking and treatment of individual cases.

HIGH DISEASE RATE

Mr. Ness sketched experiences in Cleveland where he had encountered objection to closing houses of prostitution during a clean-up campaign some years ago. Examination of 50 prostitutes there had disclosed 52 to be infected and justified his action, he said.

He found the centres where towns had "rip-roaring" red-light districts, the ones in which police society was shocked by mention of syphilis, gonorrhea and prostitution. That attitude, he said, was a serious obstacle to prevention. In many cases, he said, medical men had joined others in sponsoring prostitution in restricted districts.

With the assistance of police and through federal agencies his department had closed red light districts in 662 communities, and had followed a simple protection program of keeping infected persons away from those who were not and of finding the infected individual and giving him treatment.

Round-ups, he said, had filled jails and C.C.C. camps had been used as rapid treatment clinics.

VICTORY GIRL PROBLEM

Campaigns to curb juvenile delinquency and check the promiscuous activities of Victory Girls and Door-key kids had been only partially successful, but might be aided by extending use of schools as community centres.

"Arguments that prostitutes were scattered over a town when bawdy houses were closed could not be supported," he said. They could be cleaned out by any police department that wanted to clean them out, and had public approval for their action, he said.

He outlined educational measures now under way for venereal disease control, and declared Canada's efforts were inspiring and were led by an authority in Dr. Williams.

Chief Morrissey discussed difficulties facing police in venereal disease control. He had tried regulation, he said, and abandoned it. When bawdy houses were closed the V.D. rate in adjacent camps fell immediately.

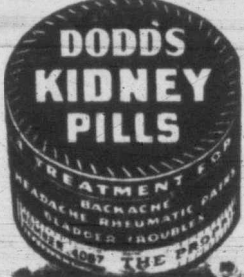

He outlined procedure and treatment and called for public co-operation, adding the prostitute who left the business for legitimate fields should be encouraged, not made an object of scorn and gossip.

KATE RISING IN B.C.

Mr. Dixon sketched Canada's four-point program of attack on legal health, welfare and moral lines. He forecast early extension of facilities for treatment, spoke of educational media now being used, and stated closing of houses of prostitution in Quebec had cut the V.D. rate there in half.

"In Canada should, in a few years, be able to reduce this problem to a minimum," he said. "B.C., he said, since 1937 had had a good V.D. control program, but had no grounds for complacency because there had been a perceptible increase in the rate lately."

GRIM REAPER has called two more figures well known to the sports loving public of this city in the passing at Duncannon. Reg Corfield and the death of Mel Lunde in action with the Canadian army overseas. Both were personal friends and their deaths rob sport of two popular personalities. Corfield in six years as president of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club was responsible for the development of many promising junior players. Reg was particularly interested in the youngsters and it was mainly through his untiring efforts that instruction classes were held several summers for the juniors of Greater Victoria.

DURING his hockey playing in this city, as a member of the army team, Lunde made many friends. Recognized as one of the most polished stickhandlers in amateur ranks he played a leading role in the success of the Victoria Army club in reaching the Allan Cup final against Ottawa Commandos two seasons ago. At the start of that memorable season Lunde, along with Pinky Melnyk and Sammy Kennedy formed what was the second string forward line. Before the close of the campaign this trio was the most feared on the army club. Melnyk and Kennedy scored majority of the goals but it was the brilliant playmaking of Lunde that made most of them possible. Corfield and Lunde have gone but their contributions to the sports life of this city will long be remembered.

VISIT of former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Dempsey to Seattle on war loan business has drawn forth a lot of comment from the sports scribes over the fine condition of the old Manassa Mauler. Dempsey, now in his 30th year, is still a mighty man. He tips the beam at 214 pounds—not bad for a fellow who fought at 193 pounds when he won the title a quarter of a century ago.

DEMPSEY is still well muscled and in exceptional condition for a man of his years. "How do you keep in shape?" Jack was asked. "Well, first, every officer on our base has a specified number of hours each week to put in on physical training work. I take that and then I play handball, squash, badminton and, just to keep the legs in good shape, do a bit of road work."

HERE ARE a few tidbits for the baseball fans, taken from the latest edition of the Baseball Guide and Record Book. Charlie Keller, now in the United States Merchant Marine, was the first American League player in two seasons to get at least one home run in each city, when he turned the trick in 1943, after missing in only one park twice in succession. He achieved the distinction by the narrow margin of home runs in Washington, Detroit, Chicago and Boston, while making 20 of his 31 in New York. The long arm of coincidence appears in the way the Chicago Nationals of 1880 and of 35 years later, on each occasion home runs were the barrier to further successes. On July 10, 1880, after Cap Anson's team had won 21 straight, Fred Dunlap of Cleveland hit a home run in the ninth off Fred Goehring. The result was a 2 to 0 defeat. On September 28, 1935, after Charlie Grimm's team had won 21 in a row, Joe Medwick of St. Louis hit a home run in the 11th off Fabian Koussik. The result was a 7 to 5 defeat for the Cubs. Stories about Ty Cobb have never mentioned the fact that the Georgia Peach once pulled a "John Anderson"—trying to take a base already occupied. Cobb attempted this "feat" at Washington in 1915, darting for third with Donie Bush on the bag. Recovering from his mental lapse Cobb tried to get back to second and was out. Even the best, make mistakes.

Ontario Athlete Crowned Champion Of Canadian Units

WITH CANADIAN CORPS IN ITALY (CP) — Before several thousand soldiers of the Canadian Corps in Italy, Capt. J. Doug Crasheley of Oakville, Ont., became champion athlete of Dominion troops in this theatre at a meet held on a former desert air force airfield.

Although not first in any event, Crasheley amassed sufficient points in an all-round performance to win the title. Last week he became champion individual athlete of the Canadian Armored Division for the second straight year.

Almost 200 contestants, representing Maj. Gen. Chris Vokes' and Maj. Gen. B. M. Hoffmeister's divisions, corps troops and the reinforcement group, took part in the meet.

Besides Crasheley, others receiving winners' medals were: Gnr. L. W. Brooks of Montreal, and Sgt. D. M. Handford of Creel-man, Sask. Both tied for second place. Corps troops won the General Burns trophy for the highest standing in formation events. It was received by Lieut. J. H. Archer of Broadview, Sask., team captain.

Individual facts included: 440 yards, Gnr. H. M. Goodman, Broadview, Sask.; three miles, L. Cpl. R. A. Abel, Saskatoon; running broad jump, Sgt. D. M. Handford, Creel-man; 220 yards, Sgt. R. R. Hurley, Penticton, B.C.; standing broad jump, Capt. F. C. Dobie, Port Arthur; hop, step and jump, Sgt. J. D. Handford, Creel-man.

Spencers Score Cricket Victory

Spencers cricket team came up with its first victory of the season yesterday over the Royal Navy. Score was 84 to 40.

Leading the department score eleven at the wickets was Jimmy Oakman with 25 runs. Shrimpton contributed 14 and Hood 13. Newton with 16 not out was high bat for the sailors.

Veteran George Gardiner was the top bowler, capturing seven Navy wickets for the loss of only 16 runs. Newton of the Navy took two for 2.

Poor Prospects For Hockey Next Winter

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP) — George Dudley of Midland, Ont., past-president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said Tuesday night it was "almost a certainty" that there would be no service teams competing in senior amateur hockey during the 1944-45 season.

Speaking at a banquet given by the Hamilton Hockey Club for the Hamilton team, Ontario Hockey Association senior champions last year, he said the outlook on amateur hockey in the next campaign "is not any too bright."

TORRES, KNOCKED OUT — Florian Bibeault, 119, last night scored a sixth-round knockout over Manuel Torres, 123, of Mexico in a scheduled 10-round bout. Bibeault sent Torres to the floor with a left hook to the solar plexus.

Speers Finds Breeding Expensive

By SYD THOMAS
TORONTO (CP) — Horseflesh always has been cheap in the west, but this economy business can be carried too far. R. James Speers might be prompted to lament. James auctioned off 11 thoroughbred yearlings from his Whittier Park farm, and obtained an even $9,300 for the lot.

Herb (Winnipeg Tribune) Manning estimates it costs about $1,000 to raise a racer from a foal to the competition level, and figuring it that way the buyers got all the rest of the bargain.

This was the first yearling sale in eight years in Winnipeg, so it's surprising there wasn't greater demand. Speers, incidentally, says he sold the yearlings because he has no wish to enter racing campaigns actively. He says he is interested solely in breeding stock and track management and promotion. He'll leave the competition for the independent owners.

Y.M.C.A. Athletes Busy Travel to Vancouver

Coach Archie McKinnon of the Flying "Y" track and field squad will take a powerful contingent of runners and jumpers to Vancouver Friday night for the big police sports scheduled Saturday.

With a team from the University of Washington scheduled to participate in the police meet it promises to offer some smart competition.

In the senior men's sprints the "Y" will have Bill Clarke and Don Dalziel after the honors. This pair will run in the same events, they cleaned up in the May 24 meet on the mainland. Clarke will be a contender in the senior 100 and the 400, while Dalziel has entered the junior 100 and senior 220. Jim Ranson will also run in the 220 and participate in the broad jump, while Gordon Hunter will run in the junior 100 and be an entry in the broad jump.

In the senior women's sprints Megan Scott and Sheila Burnett will carry the "Y" colors in the 100-yd. sprint.

Other "Y" entries, along with the events they will compete in, follow: Al McKinnon, 2 mile and half mile; Don Wilson, pole vault; Jack Rowe, half mile and high jump; Andy Gillespie, half mile; John Pendray, 220 and half mile.

90 Cats Destroyed As Bird Enemies

Ninety cats, which have been menacing birds in Victoria gardens, have been "put to sleep." Inspector Smith reported at the S.P.C.A. meeting. It was reported that cats have been destroying young chickens and spreading disease.

It was decided to make a public appeal to keep down the number of stray cats in this area by having all kittens chloroformed at birth, except one which should be kept for the sake of the mother.

In the case of two men charged with beating a dog to death in Esquimalt, the S.P.C.A. reported that its case had been thrown out of court because of a technical error.

"It was the use of a wrong word but this could have been corrected as has been done in other cases, but was not allowed," the association report said.

"The society has also been hindered from taking action in the case of the burning of a dog with turpentine and fire. The same thing happened in Vancouver and the S.P.C.A. there won the case without difficulty. The Victoria branch feels it is not getting the support of the people in bringing to justice those who break the law in the matter of cruelty to animals."

Bellingham was named as the next convention city of the Pacific Northwest Trade Association three months from now, at the concluding session of the two-day conference in the Empress Hotel on Tuesday. As a parting gesture it was decided that the delegates would buy a Canadian Victory Bond. The majority of the delegates have left for their homes on the mainland or in the United States.

Winnamucca Wins Second Straight

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnamucca, owned by K. R. Darbyshire of Victoria, won its second straight race within a week by capturing the fifth and feature race Wednesday as the Winnipeg horse racing meet continued.

Winnamucca came from behind to beat Naforych by three lengths and boost Jockey J. Silverthorn's winning mounts to 33 in the western meeting. Contributor was third.

The daily double, with Valdina Lad in the first and Herman Jr. in the second, paid $88.40.

Oaklands Win Boxla

In a mid-gut division box la-crosse game last night Oaklands defeated Fairfield 10 to 2. Gallop and Stewart scored three goals apiece for Oaklands while Day figured home a pair. Moffat and Crees provided the counters for Fairfield.

Tonight's game at Stevenson Park will see Murphy oppose the Bays in the juvenile division, starting at 7.

A meeting of the executive will be held after the game.

LONGACRES RACING

SEATTLE (AP) — Johnny X, a three-year-old from the Galders and Satter stable, won the feature six-furlong twilight handicapped Wednesday night at Longacres. With Ralph Neves up, the favorite won easily in 1:14.45, to pay $3.10, $2.30 and $2.10 in the pari-mutuels.

Heather Fox finished second to pay $2.40 and $2.10. Trots Pride paid $2.50 to show.

EAGLES PRACTICE

A workout of the Eagles' baseball team will be held this evening at the High School ground at 6:30. All players are asked to attend.

Election In Quebec Set for August 8

QUEBEC (CP)—A provincial general election will be held in Quebec province Aug. 8, Premier Godbout announced in a radio address Wednesday night.

The Premier announced the 21st legislature would be dissolved today.

The Liberal government of Premier Godbout came into power in the general elections of Oct. 25, 1939, replacing the Union Nationale administration of Maurice Duplessis.

The Union Nationale became the official opposition at that time, with 15 seats against 69 for the Liberals. One Nationalist and one Independent completed the 86-seat House.

Eight by-elections were held during the life of the 21st legislature, all of them for seats that were originally Liberal. Liberals were returned in six of them, and Union Nationale candidates in the other two, representing a net gain of two for the opposition. Eight seats vacant at present also were all held originally by Liberals.

Allied Communique 46

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE (AP)—H.M.C.S. Huron, one of the fastest and most modern destroyers in the world, early today with H.M.S. Eskimo destroyed two of three armed Nazi trawlers near the Channel Islands, a Headquarters Communique announced Wednesday night.

(When commissioned last fall, the Huron was commanded by Lt. Cmdr. H. R. Rayner, D.S.C., R.C.N.)

Text of the Communique, No. 46:

The Allied attack southwest of Caen is making steady progress in spite of more bad weather and intense opposition.

The enemy was driven out of Rauray, southeast of Fontenay, where resistance had been most stubborn.

After further heavy fighting in Grainville and Tourville, our armor and infantry crossed the River Odon, south of Tourville, on a front of about two miles.

Our advance continues towards the high ground south of the Odon.

In the Cherbourg Peninsula enemy strong points east and west of the city are being steadily cleaned up.

TOUGH ESPARTO GRASS MAKES CABLES FOR SPANISH NAVY

There is a grass in northern Africa which cattle like to eat. That is, they eat it if they can get it before it is too old. In its "old age," this grass is so tough that a cow can't get it down very well. I am speaking of esparto grass.

Esparto grass grows in Spain, as well as in northern Africa. There are thousands of acres of it in the parts of Spain known as Valencia and Murcia. It grows best in dry, sandy soil. Sometimes it reaches a height of four or five feet.

The stalks grow in clusters. One cluster may be three or four feet wide.

Growing from the stalks are grey-green leaves. The leaves usually are from six inches to two feet long, but some have a length of three feet.

[GRASS TURNED INTO PAPER]

The GRASS is placed in BOILERS for several hours.

Alive Shareholders In Banks Few

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. R. B. Hanson, P. C., York-Sudbury, N.B., told the Commons banking committee Wednesday if lists of bank shareholders were examined "you'd find more dead shareholders than live ones—and I mean physically dead."

This condition was not good for the banks, he said.

The committee approved an amendment to the Bank Bill providing that the capital stock of any bank shall be divided into shares of $10 par value rather than $100 as at present. The change was recommended to allow wider distribution of bank shares.

Normandy Nazis Arrive in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Army announced that the first German prisoners captured by Allied forces in Normandy have reached the United States.

The number of prisoners was not disclosed in the brief announcement, which said merely that they had arrived at an eastern port and had been sent to various prison camps in this country.

Deadlines Set

SEATTLE (AP)—On estimates the catch limit of 23,500,000 pounds of halibut will be reached by midnight July 9, halibut fishing in areas 1 and 2 extending from Willapa Harbor to Cape Spencer in southeastern Alaska will be closed on that date, the International Fisheries commission has announced. The catch thereafter will be restricted to that made in taking other fish, not to exceed one pound of halibut to seven pounds of other species. The season opened in April.

Y.P. Activities

New Blows On Japs

WASHINGTON (AP)—New heavy blows against the mainland of Japan, the Philippine Islands and a greater part of the Dutch East Indies may be expected with final occupation of Saipan Island in the Marianas, Navy Secretary Forrestal declared today.

The navy secretary told a news conference isolated pockets of enemy troops totaling some 200,000 men have been cut off and "are practically out of the range of help from the homeland."

Welles Shows Loss From $80,000 Income

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Orson Welles' manager testified Wednesday that although the actor's gross income last year was $80,000, he ended up with a loss of $65,000 because of theatrical and other ventures.

Welles testified he is earning $10,000 a month at present but his net is only $2,000.

The information was presented before the Superior Court ordered Welles to pay a $900 fee to an attorney for Welles' former wife, Mrs. Virginia Lederer, in her suit over a property settlement. She is asking that he be required to increase support payments for their six-year-old daughter from $133 a month to $350.

Welles described as a "faute gesture," his former wife's demand that he set up a $100,000 trust fund for the child. He said he was financially unable to do so. Welles is married to actress Rita Hayworth.

3 Civil Servants Retire Tomorrow

Three well-known Victoria civil servants will retire from provincial government service tomorrow.

They are: Norman James Ross, 73, clerk in the water rights branch, Department of Lands, who joined the service in 1913. William Rae, 68, chief inspector of rolling stock, Department of Railways, who joined the service in 1910.

L. H. Borde, 60, compositor with the King's Printer, who joined the service in 1901.

Willows' Building Replacement Asked

The city's representatives on the board of the B.C. Agricultural Association today passed resolutions asking the city to go on record favoring continuance of the fall fair and to earmark insurance funds from the recent Willows' fire for replacement of a necessary building. Ald. John A. Worthington announced following a meeting.

The recommendation in effect called for endorsement of the association's earlier request to the council. The committee also asked D. K. Kennedy, city building inspector, to prepare sketches of a proposed horse show stock ring building which the association considers essential to continue the exhibition when war ends.

A third resolution asked that a survey be undertaken at the Willows with a view to postwar development.

$7,500 Objective For Sale Friday Of Savings Stamps

A quota of $7,500 has been set for the first civic war savings stamp day, which will be held in Greater Victoria Friday, with the backing of the City Council and adjoining municipal councils.

"This amount is needed if Victoria is to be kept in line with other cities in British Columbia," said a National War Finance Committee official. "We also feel that Victorians will be happy to use this opportunity to demonstrate they are behind the troops fighting yard by yard and mile by mile on the invasion fronts."

With Mayor Andrew McGavin as chairman of the civic committee, the drive is being backed by retail merchants' section of the Chamber of Commerce. All city, Oak Bay, Saanichton and Esquimalt merchants will make war savings stamps an important sales commodity during the day.

Banks are co-operating to put over the drive.

Featured during the morning will be the Garrison Band, which will play on the city streets, while the Royal Canadian Naval Band will parade during the afternoon. Miss Canada girls will accompany the bands.

Since many persons may be asked to buy stamps more than once, the National War Finance Committee hopes this will not be construed as an annoyance, but rather as an indication of a very thorough attempt to back the troops in Normandy.

The Women's Volunteer Service, under direction of Miss Sara Spencer, will have charge of a canvass of office buildings. These workers will be assisted by volunteers working in each building.

Extra-provincially registered was MacLaren Advertising Co. Ltd., $50,000, head office in Toronto, head B.C. office in Vancouver.

New credit unions registered this week were S.H.C. (South Hill Churches) Credit Union, Vancouver; U.B.C. Employees' Credit Union, Vancouver.

48,000 Volunteers Needed Immediately

Needed immediately are 48,000 volunteers to train to take their place in the tremendous Allied drive now under way in Europe, says Capt. F. H. Wheatley, recruiting officer for Vancouver Island, who will make a recruiting trip up the island on July 5 and 6.

C.W.A.C. recruits were urgently needed, he said, to release men for emergency service overseas. Boys between the ages of 17 and 18, who had completed grade 8 studies, and who were mechanically inclined, were also needed to take training as specialists.

Capt. Wheatley may be contacted at the following places: Parksville, Qualicum, Bowser, Fanny Bay, and Courtenay in the afternoon of July 5. On the morning of July 6, he will be in Cumberland and Union Bay, and in Nanaimo, Ladysmith and Duncan in the afternoon.

Disney's Dwarfs Here Friday

Sonia, Leonard and Semon, the famous Three Franks, internationally-known troupe of mid-level entertainers, account for three of the seven dwarfs to appear in Victoria, Friday, for a series of personal appearances under RKO and the Victoria Daily Times.

All seven mid-level entertainers who portrayed the parts of the dwarfs in Walt Disney's film, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," will arrive from Vancouver at 8 a.m. During the day they will play before shipyard workers, sailors and civilians and will also be heard over C.F.M.V.

Leonard and Semon, brothers in a family of 10 children, began their theatrical careers 25 years ago in England. Sonia, Leonard's wife, has been with them for nearly 20 years. In that time the threesome has toured Europe, the United States, Australia, New Zealand, India and South Africa.

Talk Acquisition Of B.C. Electric

Move for public acquisition of the B.C. Electric services and assets was expected to take a step further today, as a result of a full-dress discussion between Premier John Hart and an inter-municipal committee headed by Mayor J. W. Cornett of Vancouver.

The delegation prepared an extensive brief on the subject for presentation to the premier, but Mayor Cornett said it was only fair to let Mr. Hart see it before making it public.

The committee met today in Mayor McGavin's office at City Hall to put finishing touches to the brief. Before going to the Parliament Buildings the delegation was entertained at a City of Victoria luncheon at the Union Club, Mayor McGavin and Alderman John Worthington doing the honors for the city.

With the two mayors seeing the premier today are Mayor V. B. Harrison, Nanaimo; Mayor William Mott, New Westminster; Mayor William Hamilton, Port Alberni; Reeve R. M. Grauer, Richmond; Alderman Charlie Jones, Vancouver; Alderman J. Richardson, West Vancouver; F. L. Shaw, Victoria City solicitor; D. E. Victorians Win Radio Play Contest

Dorothy Parfitt and Donald Robertson, Victoria High School students of Miss Ella Cameron, have tied for first place in a provincial, wide school radio play writing contest sponsored by the School and Community Drama Branch of the education department.

Alan Miller, student of Miss Olive Heritage at Central Junior High School, took second place; Maj. L. Bullock-Webster, director of the drama branch, announced today.

Miss Parfitt's play, "Back the Attack," deals with the duties of a civilian in the war, while Robertson dramatized a Scottish story, "After Culloden." Miller's short story, "Give That They Might Live," tells of the importance of blood plasma at the battle front.

Judges in the contest were: A. H. Sutherland, president of the Victoria Branch, Canadian Authors' Association; Sir Robert Holland, and Archie MacCorkindale of C.B.R. Mr. MacCorkindale has announced he hopes to produce all three plays over C.B.R. next fall.

Town Topics

Victoria Public Library will be closed all day July 1.

Annual basket picnic of the Dickens Fellowship will be held Saturday at 3, in the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Boucher, 419 Belleville Street.

War-time Emergency Agricultural Board announces that Vancouver Island Coach Lines buses will not be run for berry pickers on July 1 and 2, but will resume on Monday, July 3.

Mrs. Wilfrid Ord, assisted by Miss Dorothy Davies and Capt. Ord, will give a recital tonight at 8, at 1005 Cook Street. A silver collection will be taken in aid of the Red Cross, Wednesday night, at the same place, a program by young people was given for the same purpose.

Robert Garnet Wilbur, guilty of stealing a radio, today received suspended sentence on entering into $250 bond to be on good behavior for one year. One person paid a $250 fine for riding a boy on the handle bars of his bicycle. Other traffic and parking fines totaled $12.50.

His left foot crushed by a Ross carrier, Robert Hartman, 3026 Donald Street, an employee of the Spruce Products Ltd., Ogden Point, was treated at Royal Jubilee Hospital Wednesday. The carrier, according to police, was driven by Pat Hooper, Lindsay Road. Dr. F. M. Bryant is attending.

R.C.A.F. Supplies Worth $2,000 Seized From Civilians

R.C.A.F. equipment, including leak-proof airplane gasoline tanks, several hydraulic jacks, electrical supplies, canvas engine covers and other aircraft parts and supplies, all valued at $2,000 have been found in the possession of civilians at Sidney, a Western Air Command spokesman said today.

The official said the air force material had been seized while action is pending against the civilians involved. R.C.A.F. provost officers, who said there was no evidence of a conspiracy to defraud the service, are pushing investigations to discover the servicemen involved.

Removal of one unit from Sidney, leaving another unit in charge of hangars and subsequent cleaning out of the hangars, provided the opportunity for the gas tanks, electrical supplies and other materials to find a way into non-government hands.

Victoria District 5—Election of officers will be held at Quadra Primary School at 7.30 Friday night.

Mr. Hodges described President Roosevelt as a man of courage who could laugh and joke with schoolboy abandon in the face of tasks the like of which no American President had ever before had to face and wrestle with.

"One must assume that he regards his enormous task as a personal obligation to his people, regardless of how many of them are using the most violent language to discount his administration and even his personal integrity," said Mr. Hodges, adding that he wondered why he wanted to be President for another four years.

On studying the face of Cordell Hull, he said: "... I feel instinctively that the president of the State Department has always been and always will be guided by his own concept of what is right. ... Here is a man of peace, a statesman who does not intend to permit his country to make the same mistake twice if it lies within his power to contribute to its prevention."

JOHNSTON, WILLKIE
Eric Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and Wendell L. Willkie, Mr. Hodges saw as alike as two peas in that both spoke, frankly to the world of their philosophies and solutions to postwar problems.

Mr. Johnston, he said, stood for private enterprise, insisted United States has got along on that principle and will continue so to do.

Wisconsin's verdict had put a knot in the back of Mr. Willkie, he said.

He had gone into the lion's den of isolationism and, like Daniel, he had come out again without any visible scars. And one is required to be a Daniel in United States politics to do what he did then.

The founder of a weekly newspaper, Pour la Victoire, and one-time editor of the famous Paris Journal L'Ouvrier, Genevieve Tabouis gave the impression, Mr. Hodges said, of concern for the re-establishment of complete representative and responsive government in France.

Through Sevk Alban, first Turkish minister to Canada, Mr. Hodges said he learned that Turkey's rolling stock was in a deplorable condition, that no means of repairing it existed, and the question of manufacturing replacements was entirely out of the question.

"It will therefore be understood how difficult it has been for Turkey to maintain some semblance of a workable internal economy in the light of the United Nations and the European Axis alike," he said.

Mr. Hodges was introduced by H. Sandham Graves.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME

Home Training in Guide Program

By S. D.

Contrary to many person's ideas . . . "guiding is not a science to be solemnly studied . . . nor yet a military code for drilling discipline into girls and repressing their individuality and initiative," according to the Guides' policy organization and rules.

Rather the opposite for there are over 60 badges which may be called "hobby" craft that the girls may choose to study.

Basic training for home-makers, however, was the original idea of these proficiency badges, with the Chief Scout, posing rules for the guidance of a standard worth maintaining. Before a child may take her first class badge she must have her needlewoman's, cook and child nurse badges. This invariably encourages a child who dislikes housework and leans towards outdoor activities, to become acquainted with her mother's methods of doing home tasks.

The children are encouraged to work and play with each other, respect for opinions and methods of another guide is taught. Always, the harmonious worker is praised . . . and it is very surprising to find little children prone to work and play alone.

HOME AT CAMP

It is in the outdoor camping excursions or the camp fire hour at the meeting or under canvas, where the home spirit really shines. There children laugh over the way they used to make their beds, and the new way they have been taught! Another will proudly tell of passing her cook's badge that day while she was on patrol duty, and a third will have finished her pioneer's badge when she replaced new screens on the cookhouse windows and doors . . . a really difficult job!

Home and the loved ones in it mean a great deal more to a guide than the place to eat and sleep . . . they mean companionship, understanding, the dining room table where she can spread out her sewing materials, and the kitchen table where she spills things rather too often in making her first cake. It is inconsciously the best kind of home-life training she is receiving in the Girl Guide company, which has for its first promise, "to do my best to do my duty to God and the King," a clause embodying love of home and country.

Allied Forces Only 25 Miles From Leghorn

By NOLAND NORGARD

ROME (AP) — Along a highway littered with enemy dead and abandoned equipment, troops of the Allied 5th Army punched forward another five miles along Italy's west coast Wednesday and captured the town of Castagneto, only 25 miles from Livorno (Leghorn), while a second column farther inland pierced through German lines to within 12 miles of Siena. Allied Headquarters said today.

Livorno is an important port 11 miles south of Pisa, and Siena is a key rail and communications centre, 31 miles south of Florence.

The British 8th Army reported limited gains in heavy fighting in the areas of Lake Trasimeno and north of Perugia. Eleven guns were destroyed and 200 enemy troops were wiped out in mopping up Casella, six miles northeast of Perugia.

West of Lake Trasimeno the villages of Frattavecchia and Lafore were occupied.

The enemy intensified the retarding of the 5th Army advance, felling trees across roads, then booby-trapping them, destroying all bridges and laying minefields.

A U.S. armored force driving from the southwest, captured the road junction town of Monticiano on Highway 73, and leading elements thrust beyond to within 12 miles of Siena. The village of Montalcino also was taken.

Letters to the Editor

THE MONETARY TRAP

Canada has recently been invited to attend the United States monetary meeting.

It is the prelude to the general economical parley, which involves many issues dangerous to Canada's future.

Both the American and the English financial pool "speak" of quotas based on prewar exports, with voting powers based upon those quotas. This would give England and America control of everything.

As the discussions reach the basic or natural materials aspect, in which Canada is very formidable, the Anglo-American voting powers would quickly assert themselves and Canada would be ordered to export large quantities of our natural resources, much of which would be returned to us as manufactured articles, while millions of our people would be unemployed in the manufacturing industry, which is the very vit of our existence.

Canada must not become implicated in these adroit methods of getting possession of our raw materials, but must first provide for home consumption and then manufacture and prepare for export, on a scale consistent with the vastness of our wonderful country.

In postwar as in prewar days, if it is not watched very carefully, Canada will once more become a selling agency for Europe, America and Asia.

It would be interesting to get an expression of opinion, that might be the nucleus for a grand committee, that would embrace every aspect of our natural and industrial structure throughout the whole Dominion, and react to the benefit of all our people.

THOMAS FLYNN.

New Victoria Headquarters Aim of Guides

With no central place in Victoria for guides to meet, study or to buy equipment, the South Vancouver Island Division has set for its project that of creating a new headquarters.

Apart from the small government grant and any profits from its store department, the Girl Guides Association depends on voluntary public support for the expenses of its Dominion and provincial headquarters, and general organizations. The spirit of the movement is that, on the part of the girls themselves, money should be earned and not solicited. With a small nest-egg to back them up, the division has realized that only a united effort will bring them this new headquarters and six months ago planned a Rally Day to take place July 1, on the 77th birthday of Canada. Surely an auspicious day for such a patriotic group as these Canadian Girl Guides are!

Under the present arrangement, when a meeting of the division or districts must be called a hall must be rented. Then, too, there is the difficulty of procuring materials from Vancouver office whereas a local distributing centre would give greater freedom to the Island Guides.

DIVISIONAL SECRETARY

It is quite possible that a paid divisional secretary might in some future day be maintained. With Guiding the growing work that it is, certainly it is logical that the clerical work in the stores would need to be opened during the day, and books and stocks kept in order.

A city headquarters would enable visiting Guides and Rangers from other parts of Canada and also from the United States to quickly get in touch with any member of the division through records filed.

In such an office appeals for nurses aid would find quick response for senior Guides and Rangers could be dispatched to this work. Red Cross workers would be able to have Guides assist them with bandage windings and simple clerical jobs whenever the necessity arose.

Weeks of training and preparation have prepared the Brownies and Guides for their Grand Rally of July 1 in a program which will open with a March Past with Mrs. W. C. Woodward taking the salute on the reviewing stand. Knot-tying contests, competitive games, first aid, tent pitching and a camp-fire sing-song are other highlights of the day.

National Defence Civil Service Association met Tuesday night and changed the name of the association to H.M.C. Dockyard Civil Service Association. A talk on the new health group was given by A. J. Helmcken on the benefits and advantages of it. Miss A. Simpson was elected treasurer to replace Miss P. Fisher.

Guide Prayer

Girls who belong to the Girl Guides, a world-wide organization, hold a "Guide's Own", at their special gatherings or camps for the worship of God and to promote the fuller realization of the Guide Law and Promise. Guiding, nonpolitical, non-class and interdenominational, has its own prayer that girls repeat in French, German, Spanish, Czechoslovakian, Norwegian, Greek, Hindustani and Chinese, the words of which follow:

"Almighty and Everlasting God, by Whose grace Thy servants are enabled to fight the good fight of faith and ever prove victorious, we humbly beseech Thee so to inspire us Guides that we may yield our hearts to Thine obedience and exercise our wills on Thy behalf. Help us to think rightly, to resolve bravely, to act kindly, to live purely. Bless us in body and in soul and make us a blessing to our comrades. Whether at home or abroad, may we ever seek the extension of Thy Kingdom. Let the assurance of Thy presence save us from sinning, strengthen us in life and comfort us in death. O Lord our God, accept this prayer for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen"

FIRST COLQUITZ ASSOCIATION

A bazaar sponsored by the First Colquitz Local Association of the Girl Guides was well attended, proceeds for the evening were $39. Under the direction of Mrs. Stewart, a tumbling act by the Mount View High School girls was staged. Mrs. Hunter donated strawberry shortcakes, while other donations by members assisted in contributing to the success of the event.

BROWNIES

All Packs taking part in the Rally will meet at Heywood Avenue playing field for rehearsal of the July 1 Rally dances and games.

English Pen-Pal Befriends Uncle

One of the fundamentals of the game of Girl Guiding is that of international friendship and knowledge. Almost any girl wearing the uniform has at least one active pen pal in another country, some girls having correspondents in three or four countries.

Ruth Brown of First Colquitz Girl Guide Company, Victoria, has carried on a healthy correspondence with an English Girl Guide for some time. When her uncle went overseas he looked up the family of his niece's pen pal because he was lonely. The friendship of the two little girls has since become a real "home away from home" for Ruth's uncle. Thanks to his Girl Guide niece.

The Guide Law

1. A Guide's honor is to be trusted.
2. A Guide is Joyful.
3. A Guide's duty is to be useful and to help others.
4. A Guide is a friend to all, and a sister to every other Guide.
5. A Guide is courteous.
6. A Guide is a friend to animals.
7. A Guide obeys orders.
8. A Guide smiles and sings under all difficulties.
9. A Guide is thrifty.
10. A Guide is pure in thought, in word and in deed.

THE GUIDE PROMISE

On my honor, I promise that I will do my best
1. To do my duty to God and King;
2. To help other people at all times;
3. To obey the Guide Law.

Summer Camp Is Back to Nature

By PAT BALMA

If you have ever been to camp you will know just how I feel as I write about my last experience! On one occasion I was one of the more fortunate Guides to be hustled into a truck, to be bumped along for a few miles and then to be set to pitching tents!

Of course, during the first night, it seems a bit strange to share your bed with an inquisitive squirrel, or at worst, a snake... but one must get used to the trials in life!

Camp is not a place for people who dislike dishpan hands! But there is rest hour every day with canteen to make up for it!

Another highlight is the masquerade... but please don't be too ambitious and use shoe polish to become a cannibal. (It takes boiling water to get it off).

Before you know it you are again in the truck sitting on a neatly folded tent or bedroll and being driven towards home. Time to say goodbye to all the new friends... a gruesome ordeal!

When you are at home relaxing in a soft bed, you say: "Never again..." But you know in your heart... that there must be another camp next year for you!

Guide Law Has Democratic Principles

Miss M. Hannah, provincial head of training for the British Columbia Girl Guide Association, at a recent training camp for Guides pointed out the wartime necessity of keeping Brownie

Packs and Guide Companies operating in full swing. "Years ago Guiding led with handicrafts and hobby work, which was encouraged by the awarding of badges," Miss Hannah said. "If the schools have stolen our thunder, we must beat the schools... we must find something new to give the girls to keep their leisure time occupied. There is no doubt about it that active Guide work in any child's life lessens any danger to juvenile delinquency. There are hundreds of things to do... go out to nature... she is full of interest and ever-changing lore. What of your bird life, your plants and animals? "My concept of Guiding is that it has the fundamentals of democracy. Each child must do her share; nothing is done in the company as a whole unless all the children vote for it. Make them realize the place they play in the life of the company."

Solarium Reports Four Complete Cures

Four children completely cured had been discharged and ten new patients admitted during the month, it was reported at the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Queen Alexandra Solarium.

C. W. Laubach, administrator, reported the new patients came from the following districts: Duncan, one; Merville, one; New Westminster, one; Fernie, one; Trail, one; Vancouver, one; Saanich, one, and Victoria, three.

Six patients were discharged to their homes. Two of these had been in the Solarium for over a year, one having been cured of tuberculosis of the spine. This patient came to the Solarium from the Crippled Children's Hospital in Vancouver on Oct. 29, 1942, where operations had been performed and a fairly quick recovery resulted from further treatment of the case. The other case was discharged as much improved after having been treated since March, 1943, for paralysis. Of the other four cases, three were discharged cured of congenital clubbed feet, and the fourth greatly improved after three months' treatment for asthma.

Total days' treatment for the month numbered 2,184, and on May 31 the Solarium was full to capacity with applications still coming in.

The school principal, Mrs. McMaster, reported that the school term finished Friday, June 23, when there was a treat of ice cream for the children and other attractions. An excellent report of the work of the children in the higher grades was given, and it is gratifying to note that all are poised for higher grades next term.

One boy took Grades 5, 6 and 7 in the Solarium School, and when he was discharged his parents sent him to a Victoria school to take his Grade 8. He recently left school and it was published in their monthly paper that he was one of the best boys in Grade 8. He had average intelligence, and had kept up so that he was able to take his place with the other Grade 8's when he left the Solarium.

The children are enjoying the summer weather and are now spending all their time on the verandas. Their health is generally very good, and the Solarium has a minimum of children's diseases. Now that summer holidays give more time for play, bathing in the salt and fresh water pools will be commenced and arrangements are being made for short picnics close by the Solarium for groups as can be cared for by the staff.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

Plans have now been completed for a daily vacation Bible school to be held at Erskine Presbyterian Church, Harriet Road, commencing July 3 and continuing until July 14. A vacation Bible school will also be held at Knox Presbyterian Church, Stanley Avenue, commencing July 17. Classes will be held each weekday morning, except Saturday, from 9.30 till 11.45. Activities will include chorus singing, Bible study and stories, Scripture memorization and recreation. All boys and girls in these districts are invited to attend.

The schools will be superintended by Miss Isabel D. Scott, Presbytery deaconess, assisted by Mrs. W. Sanders and Mrs. H. Warren.

What is a Brownie?

Many parents with daughters going on eight have seen Girl Guides in their navy blue uniforms for a good many years. They are not, however, so familiar with the junior branch of the Guide movement, the Brownies, which is rather like a kindergarten is to a school.

In the Brownie Pack children from the age of seven to 11 learn the fundamentals of guiding. Here her curiosity is satisfied, her imagination stimulated and her information increased. In games played out of doors and inside, the child learns fair play and team spirit.

Here in the Brownie Pack she learns her first rules of citizenship. Under the leadership of the "Brown Owl" who captains the pack and through various tests carried out with a good deal of fun, the child is able to develop natural talents which enable her to become a more useful person in the home.

Brownies are expected to do a good deed every day, and these must be done at home rather than in the community, thus she learns to serve other people without thought of reward.

When a Brownie has gained her first-class badge or has reached her eleventh birthday she may become a Guide through the great honor of a flying-up ceremony with her "Brownie wings" awarded to her as she leaves the pack.

One Woman's Day...

By NANCY HODGES

POSTWAR PATTERN

AN AMUSING AND topical cartoon in a well-known periodical a few weeks ago showed an elderly woman inquiring in a bookstore for bargains.

At which the proprietor directed her attention to a large table, bearing hundreds of books of assorted sizes, placarded: "Postwar Plans. Marked down to 98 cents."

Comment is superfluous. But because so much is being written and said and because I have read reams about postwar plans, a little brochure which reached me a few days ago proved of timely interest.

ONTARIO SURVEY

IT WAS A PEEP into the future of the people of the Kitchener-Waterloo district of Ontario.

For it represented the findings of a post-war survey made by the Board of Trade in that microcosm of industrial Canada, at the invitation of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

Why was it made? Because, to quote from the foreword, "a plethora of fine phrases and lofty sentiments about postwar planning, accompanied by meagre practical accomplishments" gets just nowhere.

Three hundred voluntary workers undertook the task. And they made a good job of it.

They covered 443 square miles, and by the "sampling" method culled the reactions of 6,430 persons in 1,658 households.

CONFIDENT OF FUTURE

BUT WHILE the mechanics of the survey are interesting, the findings are enlightening as an "opinion poll."

Foremost, it showed that the people of that district are looking to the future with confidence.

And that feeling is shared by the farmers who, despite, help shortages and other handicaps, are enjoying an average income of $3,700, as compared to $2,300 in 1943—an average increase of 61 per cent.

The grand total of spending contemplated in the two years after the end of hostilities is about $2,400,000. Of this the farmer expects to spend about $3,300,000.

OF HUMAN INTEREST

THERE IS A human interest story behind the analysis of the projected postwar shopping.

For instance, among those in the cities and villages, the home claims 68 per cent of all the planned outlays.

Of this, about $11,500,000 will be for houses and housing improvements, and about $3,000,000 for furnishings and domestic machinery.

Automobiles will take another $2,500,000, while those who look forward to education or travel expect to disburse another $960,000.

BATHROOMS BEFORE GARAGES

FOUR TIMES AS much money is allocated for bathrooms, plumbing and heating equipment, as is planned for garages.

In the furnishing-section, stoves, washing machines and radios far outnumber the sewing machines as postwar "musts."

And the figures about automobiles provide an interesting commentary on our changing habits. Many more people desire cars than are planning to provide themselves with homes!

Of the projected expenditure on automobiles, as much as 60 per cent is available in the form of savings already.

FARMERS' HOPES

WHEN THE NATURE of the farmers' hopes are analyzed, an interesting fact emerges.

By far the greater part of their postwar spending will be made, not for the gratification of their own needs, nor in order to provide their families with greater comforts or better education.

It will be for the renovation of the farms themselves. For nearly 60 per cent of their prospective spending is earmarked for repair and improvement of farm buildings and replacement of equipment.

HOW THEY EXPECT TO PAY

ALL PERSONS interviewed by the voluntary canvassers were also asked how they anticipated paying for the articles and services desired.

This evoked the interesting fact that 43 per cent of the total expenditure is to be paid out of savings; 8 per cent out of current income; 15 per cent by installment credit; and 34 per cent by borrowing otherwise.

In addition to the contemplated spending of the urban and farm households, public bodies in the district have postwar projects amounting to $6,100,000, and business firms propose to spend $10,415,000 on buildings and equipment.

This makes a grand total of $37,940,000, or about $600 per head of the community.

ONE STEP ENOUGH

DESPITE THIS encouraging "poll" the survey emphasizes that the postwar problems of the Kitchener-Waterloo district have not thereby been solved.

The plans must be recognized as provisional. For no one knows when hostilities will cease, what will be the dollar's postwar value, how secure an income he or his neighbor's can count upon.

Nor do we know what will be the burden of postwar taxation, or very much as to the final pattern of governmental postwar policies.

But, in the spirit of Newman's well-known words, we do not ask to see the distant scene. At this point, one step is enough.

For it is a basis on which to begin planning. And what has been done in Kitchener-Waterloo for some 67,000 persons, could well be emulated right here in Victoria.

N.Y. Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—Demand centred on specialties in today's stock market while many recently speedy performers tripped over light selling and most leaders suffered from lack of attention.

The fact the Associated Press 60-stock average had touched a peak for nearly seven years in spite of conservatism among even the most rabid bulls.

Near closing friends were mixed. Canadian issues were steady.

Highs for 1944 or longer were registered for some industrial stocks.

Down Jones averages closed today as follows:

30 Industrials, 118.07, up .14

20 Rails, 41.30, up .26

15 Utilities, 23.80, off .07
